SHEEP FOES

Two Killer Eagles Shot

A Point Reyes rancher shot and killed two giant eagles, one with a seven-foot wingspread, but not before they had killed five of his sheep.

Leroy Martinelli, who has an 1,100-acre sheep ranch northeast of Point Reyes Station, killed the eagles Monday afternoon with blasts from his .12 gauge shotgun.

Deputy Sheriff William S. Christensen said he normally takes eagle stories with a grain of salt.

"But this one was real," said Christensen. "I measured the eagle myself. It had an 86-inch wingspread and seven-inch talons!"

GIANT BIRDS

Young Martinelli said he saw three giant birds, a bald eagle and two golden eagles, swoop down on his flock of sheep about 2:30 p.m. Monday. They attacked a little lamb in rotation.

One eagle would lift the lamb for a dozen feet, then drop it, hoping to cripple it. Then the next eagle would pick up the lamb and drop it. But the plucky lamb kept scampering away.

TOO AFRAID

The ewes tried to defend the lamb, but they too were afraid of the eagles, Martinelli reported.

He raced back to the ranchhouse to get his shotgun, then fired at the attacking birds. He downed two of the three.

Martinelli said five of his lambs were slain.

ATTACKS CAT

"I never saw such an aerial exhibition in my life!" said Martinelli. "It would have been something to watch, except they were killing my sheep!"

Last October, Martinelli said, he killed a golden eagle that had attacked his house cat. But this is the first time he had seen eagles actually lift lambs off the ground and drop them.

NWP Ties Open Tunnel To Closing In Tiburon

Also Would Pursue Sausalito Shutdown

Northwestern Pacific Railroad wants to close its Tiburon peninsula services as a condition to opening the Puerto Suello tunnel, a spokesman for the parent Southern Pacific Co. said today.

If the company exhausts all appeals and finally is required to restore service from the north to San Rafael and other cities, it wants to abandon all peninsula operations, the spokesman said. A request for approval of such a plan was filed last August with the Interstate Commerce Commission, he reported. No hearing date has been set.

The railroad also will pursue its requests to abandon its branch line to Sausalito. The railroad contends that the Sausalito industries which previously had opposed abandonment now have moved out of the service area.

Petitions are being circulated in Tiburon, at the suggestion of railroad officials, asking peninsula residents to support abandonment of the Tiburon line.

If the tunnel were reopened, it would allow service from the north and eliminate the need of routing all freight from the south as far as San Rafael so the ferry to Richmond and the Tiburon line would be unnecessary, the railroad contends. (The ferry connects with Santa Fe, which has no connection from the north for interstate shipping.)

Under the proposal filed with the ICC, the company asks that its Tiburon branch be closed from a point 1.7 miles south of the junction near Meadowsweet where the Sausalito line branches off. Stopping operation at that point still would allow railroad service to Corte Madera companies now being served, the railroad officials pointed out.

If the Tiburon shutdown were approved, it would mean that Northwestern Pacific would route its trains through Schellville and south. Santa Fe Railroad would not pick up the service in Richmond, as it did when Tiburon was the main line connection of the railroad before the fire.

The Santa Fe has sided with those who want the tunnel opened in an effort to protect its traffic.

MORE JAILINGS IN VOTE MARCH

San Francisco Youth, Two Others Held For Talking To Negroes On Sidewalk

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Three white civil rights workers were arrested today after they refused to get away from a line of Negroes seeking to register as voters.

Two of those arrested were identified as Frank Soracco of San Francisco and Roger Daley of Dartmouth College, field workers for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

The third was not immediately identified.

A short time later, a group of about 20 Negroes attempted to get into the registration line. They were taken to jail when they refused to disband.

It was the final day of a special 12-day registration term.

The board will be in recess after today, but will meet again Monday for one day. The campaign by Negroes will continue in Selma, and at the same time will move into an adjoining county.

The three-member board has been in session three days in each of the past four weeks. Next Monday it will return to the regular two-days-a-month schedule.

Sheriff James G. Clark and his deputies arrested more than 200 Negroes last week when they refused to use the courthouse door designated by county authorities.

A federal court injuncion issued last Saturday prohibited sheriff's officers from further interference. Since then the campaign has moved along with less difficulty.

However, U.S. marshals enforcing the court order have allowed no more than 100 applicants to wait in line at one time. The injunction by U.S. Dist. Judge Daniel H. Thomas specified that the number of places in line must be assigned to the first 100 arriving each day.

Thirty-four Negroes who reached the courthouse yesterday after the alloted number had taken their places in line were arrested when they refused to mov on.

Viet Turnover Poses Crisis To U.S. Envoy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's generals returned Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh to power in a bloodless military coup today, and the Buddhist opposition to the civilian government began jubilant celebrations.

Khanh charged Premier Tran Van Huong's three-month-old government had failed to stabilize the chaotic situation in the nation's major cities. He said the chaos was impeding the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

The coup posed new problems for the United States, which had hoped civilian government could rally the populace behind the war effort.

The U.S. embassy said in a statement: "Until we can assess more clearly the nature and extent of the important events set in motion this morning, it

Dead Realty Magnate, Defunct Bank Linked

A link has come to light between the defunct San Francisco National Bank and a San Rafael real estate magnate who jumped to his death from Golden Gate Bridge Dec. 13, 1963.

Marshall Norman Israel, 34, reportedly owed the bank $326,000 in unsecured loans. He skipped an appointment with Don C. Silverthorne, then president of the bank, on the day he jumped from the bridge.

The body of Israel, who had millions of dollars in Bay Area real estate, was found in the waters beneath the bridge. He had only a crumpled dollar bill in one of his pockets.

Silverthorne had signed three loans for Israel totalling $340,000. He had paid back only $14,000 of this.

These facts came to light following closure of the bank. Records showed that bank officials had filed a claim for the unpaid balance of the loans.

In a will, written the day before he died, Israel left the bulk of his estate, valued at seven million dollars, to his estranged wife in San Francisco.

Israel's lavish home at 252 Summit Avenue, San Rafael, was the scene of an earlier tragedy on July 13, 1963, the day of a house warming. Robert Madrid, a San Francisco real estate salesman, one of the 200 guetss, drowned in the swimming pool.

The San Francisco National Bank was closed Friday by order of the comptroller of the currency, who said the bank was insolvent. An investigation was under way today into a report that the bank was offering interest rates above the federal maximum in an effort to attract deposits.

Marin Conservative Says Third-Party Signups On

By WAT TAKESHITA

A third political party, called the National Conservative Party, is definitely in the making, its self-styled national chairman declared today from his Larkspur headquarters.

Fred Ullner declared that he will use his former television shop at 467 Magnolia Avenue as temporary headquarters for the National Conservative Party.

"We got that name reserved in Sacramento and are getting our articles of incorporation," said Ullner. "We hope to put the party on the ballot by re-registration of voters."

Ullner said that only one per cent re-registration is needed to qualify the new party on the ballot. This means only 62,600 re-registrations.

"We expect 25,000 re-registrations in Orange County alone," he declared.

"I just received a nice letter from Barrry Goldwater," Ullner reported. "He knows about our plans, although he does not ap-

LBJ 'Feels Fine' But Still Unsure Of London Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson "feels fine" but still has not decided whether to attend the state funeral of Sir Winston Churchill, Press Secretary George Reedy said today.

The White House also announced that the President and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey have reached a verbal understanding on procedure in event the Chief Executive is disabled or incapacitated by illness.

It was the same agreement which existed between the late President John F. Kennedy and Johnson as vice president.

Reedy also said Johnson had been kept fully informed of the military coup in Saigon.

Johnson Recites 'Road To Peace' Space Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the national space program has made "substantial strides in a very brief span of time — and more are to come."

"We expect to explore the moon, not just visit it or photograph it," Johnson said in a letter to Congress submitting his ceview of aeronautics and space activities in 1964.

"We plan to explore and chart planets as well," he said.

"We are determined that space shall be an avenue toward peace and we both invite and welcome all men to join with us in this great opportunity," he said.

Tobacco Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill making it a crime for a person under 18 to possess tobacco in California was introduced in the Assembly today.

Smog Device Measure Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly, overriding objections it was acting too hastily, today passed by the bare majority required an emergency bill knocking the penalty clause out of the auto smog device law.

The bill, introduced by Assemblyman Tom Carrell (D-San Fernando), now goes to the Senate. If it passes the senate it can be put into effect immediately upon being signed by the governor.

The measure passed by a 54-7 margin. It required 54 votes as an urgency bill.

BELOVED STATELY OAK

Hub Only Owns Half Tree, But Wants All Of It Saved

By GILES BIXLER

A tree which was once the subject of a poem and is now the object of a save-the-tree movement must be saved, the San Anselmo City Council decided last night. But the decision was inconclusive because the city owns only half the tree.

The other half is owned by Jordan L. Martinelli, although Northwestern Pacific Railroad disputes his right to the land it stands on, said City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt.

The tree is a stately old oak near the site of the old Greyhound bus depot on what is to become the city's parking lot "A". The tree is more than 100 years old, possibly 300 years old, said Mrs. John F. West, a director of the San Anselmo Homes Assn.

It has been damaged by bulldozers grading the parking lot and the fill piled around it

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Presiding Episcopal Bishop Installed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Rt. Rev. John Elbridge Hines, 54, was installed as presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church today in a colorful service at Washington Cathedral.

Hines

In his inaugural sermon, he called for a return to Christ-centered preaching to lead bewildered church members out of "a maze of theological speculation."

He said that, historically, the church has had a real impact on men and society "only when her theology has begun and continued in the declaration, 'I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only son, our Lord'."

Representatives of 27 other Christian communions, including the Roman Catholic Church, the Eastern Orthodox Churches and major Protestant denominations, walked in the procession down the long nave of the gothic cathedral which opened the service.

U.S. Challenges Russ On Spy Charges

Stolz, 39, of Montgomery County, Md., was branded persona non grata in a Soviet note published last night. He is the first secretary at the U.S. Embassy here.

American officials quickly called the allegations "unfounded" and challenged Russian officials to provide detailed evidence.

Second Man Charged In Slayings

Robles

Now they have accused a second man.

Richard (Ricky) Robles, also 22, a dope addict and convicted burglar, was charged with the double slaying last night.

Robes lived eight blocks from the girls' apartment. He had been freed from prison where he had been serving a sentence for 100 East Side robberies only a month before the Aug. 28, 1963, crime.

Gen. LeMay Lauded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has confirmed Gen. John P. McConnell as the new Air Force chief of staff, while paying tribute to retiring Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis E. LeMay.

Action yesterday also put Gen. LeMay on the retired list with the rank of full general.

French Strike Due

PARIS (AP) — A new nationwide transport strike — the second in six weeks — hit France today as the country prepared for electricity and gas stoppages tonight. Workers in the nationalized services want more money. The government has refused to meet their demands, fearing new inflationary pressures.

Bullets Are Fatal

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Hassan Ali Mansour, 41, who took office as prime minister last March, died yesterday of bullet wounds suffered last Thursday when he was shot by a young assassin. Mansour, son of a former prime minister, had battled conservative Moslem elements in carrying out the shah's program to transform Iran into a modern state.

Charges Filed Over Eight Library Books

Misdemeanor charges were filed by the district attorney's office yesterday against two Mill Valleyans charging them with failure to return eight library books to the Mill Valley Public Library.

Warrants were issued for arrest of Lyla Lawson and L. R. Whideaux of 86 Washington Park Avenue, the district attorney's office reported. The books were found last Wednesday in a trash bin at Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

CHURCHILL MOURNED — Four naval officers, heads bowed, mount guard around Sir Winston Churchill's catafalque in Westminster Hall. The catafalque will be on public view in London for three days. (UPI Telephoto)

Body Of Churchill Lies In State; First Mourners File Past Bier

LONDON (UPI) — The many who owe so much to Sir Winston Churchill began repaying their debt to him today.

His body lay in state in a closed coffin in Westminster Hall—the "Hall of Kings"—and at 9 a.m., the first of miles of mourners filed past it in final salute. Prime Minister Harold Wilson led the procession, followed by Sir Alec Douglas-Home, leader of the Conservative party, and Jo Grimond, leader of the Liberals. Then came Lord Gardiner, the lord chancellor; the Earl of Longford, Privy Seal; Herbert Bowden, lord president of the council; and members of the Houses of Commons and Lords.

At 11 a.m., the big doors of the 800-year-old hall swung to admit the public.

Hours before they could be admitted to the hall, in a bone-chilling, foggy night, people began lining up outside. The first one arrived at 8 o'clock last night, carrying sandwiches and a small bottle of rum. He was Nick Hutchins, 17, who had not even been born when Churchill was having his finest hour in World War II.

"I think sitting here all night is the least I can do for such a great man," he said.

The second man was a bearded New Zealand sailor, Robert Allen Wilson, 36, who, except for five hours, held a 10-day vigil near the Churchill residence after a stroke felled the 90-year-old man.

"After I have been through Westminster Hall," he said, "I am going to do exactly as I did at Sir Winston's house. I am going to pray."

Churchill's body was taken from his home to Westminster Hall last night. Lady Churchill and members of the family rode in limousines behind the hearse, and as the procession moved slowly through the streets men halted on the sidewalks and lifted their hats.

At the entrance of Westminster Hall eight bare-headed guardsmen advanced in slow time to the hearse, put the coffin on their shoulders and carried it into the hall.

WHY (WHIR) MARY (CLICK) CAN'T SPELL?

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Dr. Alice Keliher, a visiting professor of education at Wheelock College in Boston and a pioneer in using films for teaching, warns against the increasing use of mechanical teaching devices.

"I go into school and see children getting spelling lessons from tape recorders and earphones," she said during a workshop sponsored by the State Department of Education.

"The machine can't give you a wink or a nod or a grin when you get the right answer. It just clicks and you go on to the next question."

Leake Criticizes Brown, Cranston Tax Program

MARYSVILLE (AP) — Paul Leake, a member of the State Board of Equalization, today said Gov. Brown's support of a proposed new Department of Revenue would result in "taxation without representation."

Leake, editor of the Woodland Democrat, also slapped at State Controller Alan Cranston in a speech before the Marysville Rotary Club. Like the governor and Cranston, Leake is a Democrat.

In supporting establishment of a new revenue department for which he would appoint a director, Brown is "turning back the clock 200 years to taxation without representation," said Leake.

He urged Cranston to put the state's inheritance tax appraisers under civil service. The appraisers currently are appointed by the controller.

California's Education Statistics Lead Nation

BURLINGAME (AP) — California has more students, more teachers and spends more money on education than any other state, the California Teachers Association reported today.

California is fifth in the amount spent each year for each pupil. The state is spending $570 this year, compared to $530 last year for educating each pupil.

New York is high with $790 and Mississippi at the bottom with $273. The national average is $483. Alaska, New Jersey and Connecticut are ahead of California.

The teachers association based its report on a survey of public elementary and high schools made in cooperation with the National Education Association.

California is tops with 4,525,000 pupils, 163,700 on the instructional staff, and expenditure of $3.2 billion for education. New York is second in each case with 3,192,000 students, 158,600 teachers and $2.7 billion expenditure.

California teachers receive an annual salary of $7,900, second only to Alaska's $8,360. Last school year the California average was $7,317. The current national average is $6,503 compared to $5,885 last year. Mississippi pays the least—$4,100.

California is 24th in the percentage of state contribution to school costs—39.5 per cent. Delaware is highest with the state paying 78 per cent.

In terms of high school graduates California is tops with 230,000. New York is second with 189,000.

The state eliminated 23 school districts for a total of 1,488, the fifth highest number for any state. Nebraska had the most—2,700.

The figures come from NEA's "Estimates of School Statistics, 1964-65."

Judge Rejects Sit-In Appeal

BERKELEY (AP) — Municipal Judge Rupert Crittenden has rejected an appeal by 130 University of California faculty members that charges be dropped against the 768 demonstrators arrested Dec. 2-3 at a sit-in for more political freedom for students.

However, Judge Crittenden yesterday postponed starting the trials in groups of 50 when defense attorneys challenged the judge's constitutional right to try the cases.

Shorter Season Sought On Deer

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. John C. Begovich, D - Jackson, says the state's deer herds are being depleted and has introduced a bill that would shorten the late or inland deer season.

Under the legislation, the late season, which now runs seven weeks, would open on the last Saturday closest to Sept. 15 and last six weeks.

Commenting on the bill's introduction Tuesday, Jack Hiehle of the Fish and Game Department's management staff, said the herds are in no way being depleted.

The early or six-week coastal season would not be affected by Begovich's bill.

Political Bug Again Nibbling Barry; He'd Like Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater is seriously considering a return to active politics by bidding for either a Senate or House seat.

Goldwater, the defeated GOP presidential nominee, has told friends he would like to go back to the Senate if the opportunity presents itself. He is less enthusiastic about seeking a House seat but has not rejected the idea.

The one thing he has been emphatic about, in private conversations, is that he doesn't want another presidential nomination even if unforeseen — and he thinks highly unlikely — circumstances should offer him a new opportunity in that field.

Since his defeat last November, Goldwater has been showered with advice ranging from appeals for him to start a third party to counsel that he move out of Arizona to establish a political base in a state that backs a substantially larger electoral college wallop.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was reported to have suggested that Goldwater consider moving either to California or to New York to try his political luck in House or Senate races in one of those states.

Goldwater intends neither to encourage any third-party movement nor to desert Arizona.

The difficulty in Arizona is that there is no political opening at the moment for a man who enjoyed 12 years in the Senate and would like to return to his associations there.

His friend Paul Fannin, the GOP former governor, was elected to a six-year term last fall to fill the seat Goldwater vacated. The term of 86-year-old Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden doesn't expire until 1969.

The Arizona Legislature is grappling with the problem of realigning the state's three congressional districts to meet the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote dictum.

If the 1st District now represented by GOP Rep. John J. Rhodes — which encompasses Phoenix and Maricopa County — should be sliced up in the process, Goldwater conceivably could be interested in bidding for a House seat.

Extreme Cold Adds To Woes Of Midwest

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Extreme cold stung the Midwest today, adding more burdens to the thousands of families in northern Illinois driven from their homes by power failures.

The cold also swept into the Northeast, accompanied by strong winds.

Texas dust was blown by strong winds as far away as Pennsylvania in what the U.S. Weather Bureau called "an extremely unusual phenomenon."

The dust billowed over Tennessee, Ohio and Pennsylvania, apparently the remnants of a huge dust storm in Texas and Oklahoma Monday.

A heavy snow struck northern Illinois yesterday, measuring eight inches in some aceas, and hampered repair work on power lines felled by ice which had formed Saturday.

In northern Illinois, 3,600 power-line repair workers—including some from Denver, Minneapolis, St. Louis, northern Ohio and Philadelphia — were hampered by Tuesday's heavy snow.

Many families without lights, heat and water rented hotel rooms and others stayed with friends. The American Red Cross, Salvation Army and Civil Defense set up public shelter and mobile units.

Marin Cleric Reports New Dixie Attack

Rev. Jack Bartlett, associate minister of Mill Valley Community Church who was assaulted last Thursday in Hattieburg, Miss., where he is working in civil rights activities, was attacked again Monday but was uninjured.

Rev. Gordon L. Foster, pastor of the Mill Valley Church, said he spoke by telephone yesterday with Bartlett. He said Bartlett reported he and three other civil rights workers were pummeled and knocked to the ground when they tried to desegregate a cafeteria.

Bartlett told Foster a complaint against lack of police protection is to be heard in the case in Hattiesburg tomorrow.

New Broadcasters President Appointed

Wasilewski, 42, was elevated to the post Tuesday from his job as NAB executive vice president by the organization's board of directors. He had been acting head of the group since Collins resigned last Aug. 1 to accept a civil rights post in the Johnson administration.

Three Jail Inmates Face Trial In Fracas

Hearing to set trial date for three Marin County jail inmates charged with destroying jail property was to be held this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Defendants John Lyle Mead, William Switzer and Roy Lee Burts allegedly piled broken furniture and bunk mattresses in the center of their cell last Friday. They also allegedly clogged plumbing, creating a small flood in a jail hallway and the booking desk area.

Burts was not present at yesterday afternoon's arraignment, having been taken to Napa State Hospital for observation following two suicide threats early yesterday.

Mead, facing four felony charges of forgery, told the Independent - Journal yesterday the destruction fracas was a protest because: (1) he had done nothing to deserve being placed in what he termed virtually isolation, (2) the cell had no fresh air, and (3) the prisoners were being starved by meager rations of food.

Undersheriff Eugene Meyer, informed of the complaint, said the cell in which the three were confined has six bunks, is certainly not isolation, has a window and an overhead ventilator. Not only were the three offered the identical food other prisoners receive, but they had been given extra rations by the jail's cook, Meyer said.

Mead was convicted of passing a worthless check last Feb. 27 in Fairfax and was given 90 days in jail.

He was granted work furlough privileges and on May 30 escaped. He voluntarily surrendered soon afterward and was returned to jail, but later was taken to Napa State Hospital for observation. On Nov. 23 he was charged with forgery of two $110 checks in San Rafael. He is also charged with forging two $70 checks drawn on the San Rafael General Hospital—checks which the hospital reported lost two years ago.

Truck Hits Boy; Arm Is Broken

A 6-year old San Rafael boy suffered a broken left arm when he was run over by a Petaluma man's pickup truck at about 4 p.m. yesterday in a driveway at 142 Park Street, San Rafael.

Injured was Domini Quinzon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basilio L. Quinzon of 142 Park Street, Apt. A. Police said the truck was driven by Walter W. Whitman of Petaluma.

Police did not learn of the accident until the child's parents called them from the office of a doctor who treated him. They were investigating today to learn whether it occurred on private property or in the right-of-way.

Drastic State Tax Changes Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly's Democratic leadership today unveiled a massive $1.092 billion program of tax increases and tax relief to hard-pressed property owners.

For a married Californian with two children, a $6,000 annual income and a $10,000 home, it could mean a net annual tax cut of $21.32, the lawmakers said.

The program, conceived by Chairman Nicholas C. Petris, D - Oakland, of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, would institute withholding of state income taxes, boost the 3 cent a-package cigarette tax by 5 cents, and broaden the sales tax base.

But it would also mean lower property taxes for homeowners and businessmen.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, called it the "most massive program for relief of the property taxpayer ever suggested in California."

Unruh said Gov. Brown, who has a tax program of his own, was "sympathetic" to the Assembly program, "but not committed."

Raise $106 million in new state taxes in the year starting July 1 and boost the new taxes up to $382 million the following year.

Exempt household goods from the property tax, furnishing $40 million in tax relief to property owners.

Provide another $5 million in property tax relief by further exemptions and furnishing $30 million in property tax relief for the low-income aged.

To make up the property tax loss to cities, there would be $40 million in new aid to cities, counties and school districts.

And there would be a mandatory 25 per cent reduction in school property taxes, to be financed by a 1 per cent increase in the state sales tax.

TREE

threatens to smother it, said Mrs. West.

"It's death warrant is signed. I wonder if Mr. Martinelli knows that," said Mrs. West.

John C. Phillips of Sohner Tree Service seconded her statement and said no one can tell how much fill has been piled around the tree in recent years. It stands near what used to be the NWP station, Mayor William Franchini recalled.

The trouble is, said Flautt, that Martinelli doesn't want to let the city dig down and find out what needs to be done. The council asked him to try persuasion on the property owner.

"San Anselmo's poet laureate, Matthew Hansen, has written a poem about this tree," said Flautt. "Many people love this tree."

FBI Men Tell Timetable Of Grisly Find

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — The search of a farm which yielded the bodies of three murdered civil rights workers was a closely timed operation, two FBI agents said today, when called to testify in U. S. District Court to block a defense claim that the farm was searched illegally.

The claim is one of several defense motions which had held up arraignment of 16 men on federal conspiracy charges. They were accused of a Ku Klux Klan execution of the three men.

Agent Henry McConnell of Oklahoma City testified he served a search warrant on farm owner Olen Burrage at 8:12 a.m. last Aug. 4 and immediately notified his superiors by radio.

The FBI's waiting bulldozer and dragline—a type of crane—went straight to the correct spot on the 400-foot-long earthen watershed and started digging. The bodies were found about 16 feet down.

Earlier today, photographers and newsmen ducked away from swinging fists as some of the defendants were brought into the courthouse.

'Plain English' Ballot Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Language experts would be enlisted to try to make it easier for people to understand California's ballot propositions under legislation introduced in the Assembly today.

The author, Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan, said the average person could not have made sense out of most of the 17 legalistically-worded propositions on last November's ballot.

The Chula Vista Republican would require that the Secretary of State appoint a three-member panel of professors of English from colleges to prepare simple statements for each ballot showing the effect of a "yes" or "no" vote.

Steep Bids For School Shake Board

Members of the San Fafael Board of Education, faced with a low bid of $183,368 on a construction job that was budgeted at $130,000, called for time last night.

They wanted to look over the plans for the job—the construction at Gallinas School of a kindergarten and four classrooms for hard of hearing pupils.

Board members were surprised that the low bid was so high.

A figure of $130,000 for the hard of hearing units was included in the budget. However, architect A. McKenzie Cantin reminded the board he had warned that costs were running higher than expected due to special acoustical requirements. He said his estimate for the whole job had been $165,000.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said the bids "were a shock to our office. We will do everything we can to keep it from happening again."

Ullner said that his hero, Ronald Reagan, is also not in favor of the third party. "We'd love to get Reagan to pull out of the Republican Party and join us," he said.

Ullner said his National Conservative Party will tie in with the American Conservative Party, headed by Ed Peskay of Scottsdale, Ariz., Goldwater's home town.

Ullner said he plans to call the first national meeting of the National Conservative Party in Scottsdale in late February or early March.

"Third parties have been dismal failures in the past," Ullner acknowledged. "But that was before Goldwater."

Marin GOP Committees Appointed

Marin Republican Central Committee members last night set up committees in preparation for the 1966 election.

District 1 — Paul R. Haerle of San Rafael; district 2 — James McNabb of Ross; district 3 — Henry J. Broderick of Tiburon; district 4 — Frank P. Myer of Pt. Reyes; and district 5 — Edwin Grundstrom of Novato.

Calvin P. Horn of Ignacio was appointed chairman of finance, and Robert Huber of Mill Valley as Marin representative on the First Congressional District executive committee. Huber succeeds Roger F. Morse of Sleepy Hollow, who is moving to Washington, D. C.

New audit committee members are Herbert K. Walton Jr. (chairman), Charles Daniels Jr. of San Rafael, and Myer; legal committee; William O. Weissich of San Rafael, Henry Broderick of Tiburon, John A. Busterud of San Rafael, Walton and Huber.

Daniels was appointed sergeant at arms and official greater.

Phone Foiled By Elephants

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Stewart Lancaster and his fiance, Diana Vanthoogerhuijs, ran into an unexpected obstacle when they tried to telephone from Louisville to her parents near Cape Town, South Africa.

Elephants, an operator told them, were causing a thunderous static that drowned their voices.

It seems the elephants like to scratch themselves on the telephone poles in Africa, causing the static.

The callers gave up, then placed the call later without difficulty.

Life In Prison For Attack Is Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A legislator, citing "horrendous crimes" committed in private homes, today proposed mandatory life prison sentences for persons who break into homes to commit rape.

Assemblyman Joseph M. Kennick (D-Long Beach) introduced a bill requiring life without possibility of parole for anyone convicted of using force or deception to enter a home to commit rape.

Reliable sources said Khanh and the military council he heads had planned the coup for Feb. 2 but decided to pull it off today because U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was on a trip to Laos and Thailand.

Five leading Buddhist monks who had been making a "fast to the death" to bring down Premier Huong began eating late this afternoon.

The Buddhist hierarchy broadcast an appeal "to all chapters throughout the country" to cease the antigovernment campaign.

"Now it's Taor or Khanh," a Vietnamese officer said. "One or the other has to go."

Khanh and Taylor became bitter antagonists following the partial coup last Dec. 20, when Khanh and a group of young generals dissolved the High National Council — the provisional legislature.

Taylor pressed U.S. demands for a reversal of the military action and assurance that the military would quit dabbling in politics. The feud appeared to ease when the generals announced they had returned power to the civilian leaders and released politicians arrested in the purge. But several of the young generals behind Khanh continued to favor establishment of a military dictatorship, and it was no secret that ill feeling remained between Khanh and Taylor.

Indian Dies Torch Death

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — An Indian soaked his clothes with kerosene and burned to death in Madras today in the second fiery suicide protesting the change from English to Hindi as India's official language.

In Chidambaram, a town 120 miles down the coast of the southeastern state, a college student was killed and another critically wounded when police opened fire on a rioting mob.

Despite pleas for calm by Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and other leaders, violence erupted for the third day in the port city of Madras and elsewhere in the tropical Tamil-speaking state. Hindi is almost unknown there and is a hated symbol of north Indian political supremacy.

Air Force Gags Resigning Cadets

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—A stringently enforced shield of secrecy surrounded the investigation of examination cheating at the Air Force Academy and several more cadets resignations were expected today.

The number is expected to total near 100 before the cheating probe is completed, topping the 90 resignations at West Point in its scandal in 1951.

Cadets who have resigned or been dismissed have been threatened with possible court martial if they discuss the matter with anyone, the Denver Post reported in a copyrighted story.

OBITUARIES

Reuben L. Hutchins Dies At 83

Reuben L. Hutchins of 27 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, died in a local hospital today after a long illness. He was 83 years old.

Hutchins, a native of San Francisco, retired from his general contracting business in 1946. He lived in Marin County five years.

He and his wife, Agnes, who survives him, were married 58 years ago.

He leaves a daughter, Evelyn Hutchins of Memphis, Tenn.; three sons, Reuben, Ashton and Allen Hutchins, all of San Rafael, a sister, Mrs. Jenny Lohman of Los Angeles, five grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. Friday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

MRS. RICHARDES

Alvira F. Richardes of San Anselmo, a 36-year resident of Marin, died in a local rest home yesterday after a long illness.

Mrs. Richardes, who lived at 22 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, moved to the rest home last April. She suffered a heart attack six years ago and was forced to give up her bookkeeping job with a San Francisco candy broker.

She was a native of San Francisco.

Mrs. Richardes was the widow of Eardley C. Richardes, a builder who died in 1949. The couple took an active interest in music. Mrs. Richardes was a pianist.

She leaves two sisters, Ruth Borden of Sonora and Signe Pinkey of San Francisco, and a brother, Carl Clyde of San Francisco.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Friday at Anderson Funeral Parlor, Valencia and 25th streets, San Francisco. Burial will be in Olivet Memorial Park, Colma.

CORA SHIPLEY

Funeral for Cora Mae Shipley of 49 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, a 10-year resident of Marin, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Shipley died unexpctedly Monday in Phoenix, Ariz., while on a vacation.

She was the widow of Walter W. Shipley, an auto dealer in Portland, Ore., who died in 1948.

She was a native of Rosalie, Wash., and had lived in Redding, Shasta County, and Spokane, Wash., prior to moving to Portland. She worked with her husband in the early days of his auto business.

She leaves a son, Walter W. Shipley Jr. of Bellevue, Wash.; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Newbold of San Rafael, and her mother, Mrs. Maxine Morse of Seattle, Wash.

WALTER SULLIVAN

Requiem Mass for Walter E. Sullivan of San Jose will be offered at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Frances Cabrini Church, San Jose.

Sullivan, a brother of Stanley E. Sullivan of Mill Valley, died Monday at the age of 70.

For many years he was a deputy sealer of weights and measures in Contra Costa County. He moved to San Jose seven months ago.

He leaves his wife, Mary; a son Stanley F. Sullivan; three sisters, Mrs. Alma M. Reed of Mexico City, Mrs. Isabel Hewitt of Sacramento and Mrs. Muriel Ressek of San Francisco; three brothers, Stanley and Desmond and Prescott Sullivan of San Francisco.

Rosary will be recited at Willow Glen Mortuary, 1039 Lincoln Avenue, San Jose, at 8 p.m. today. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Trouble Mounting For Brown Program

Assembly Democrats readied a tax program "substantially different" from the administration's. And Assembly Republicans threw up an almost impassable roadblock to the governor's disability insurance rescue plan.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, said the lower house Democratic leadership's revenue plan will raise about as much as the governor's $250 million plan but it will be "substantially different."

Unruh and Chairman Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee will unveil the plan, the result of more than a year's study.

But the threat of a rival tax program from his own party didn't pose the immediate problem caused by Republican opposition to Brown's plan to restore the financial stability of the disability fund.

Providing benefits for off-the-job illness or injury, the fund, financed by worker contributions, has been paying out more than it has been taking in.

Brown's rescue bill, boosting employe contributions, barely was approved by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee yesterday on a 12-6 party-line vote.

But it takes a two-thirds vote of 54 on the Assembly floor for approval of the bill, an emergency measure that would take effect when the governor signs it.

The Democratic margin is only 49-31 and the rejuvenated Assembly Republicans are apparently determined to hold firm. A top lower house Democrat, who didn't want his name used, said the bill will be defeated.

Even Democrats declined at first to rally behind the bill in Ways and Means. Republicans picked up four Democratic votes in an unsuccessful attempt to send the bill to the Finance and Insurance Committee.

But the author, Assemblyman George N. Zenovich, D-Fresno, sent a hurried message recalling an absent Democrat and won over the other four.

Zenovich's bipl would raise the current 1 per cent tax of a worker's pay on the first $5,600 he makes to 1.1 per cent. The hike would continue to the end of 1966 when it would return to 1 per cent. But the amount of pay taxed would rise to $7,500, meaning employe contributions still would be higher than now. In the future, benefits and taxes would gradually go up together.

Employment Director Albert Tieburg said the fund is "now insolvent" and that beginning "April 1, benefit checks will be reduced by an average 18 per cent if a refinancing plan isn't passed soon.

Proposed Bill Would Cover State Districts

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, today introduced what probably will be the biggest bill of the session—at least in size. Some 350 pages long, it permits consolidation of California's more than 3,500 special districts.

Knox said the measure will provide uniform procedures for reorganizing, merging or even eliminating scores of districts supplying water, fire protection, sanitation and other urban services to millions of residents of unincorporated areas. School districts would not be affected.

While praising most districts, Knox said "special district laws prevent them from annexing territory, consolidating with other districts or otherwise reorganizing to meet the pressures of community growth."

The measure permits reorganization to be initiated by district directors, by residents of a district, by county supervisors, by local agency formation commissions or city councils.

There would be full notice and public mearings on reorganization plans.

The 1959 Soviet census, the first since 1939, reported a population of 208,826,000, an increase of 38,226,000 or about 9.5 per cent.

State Junior College Aid Proposal Outlined

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Pace of growth would be the key factor in determining how much state aid a junior college receives under major legislation introduced today by Sen. Walter Stiern, D-Bakersfield.

His bill also would allocate $50 million in bond funds approved by voters last November.

Gov. Brown called Stiern's measure "an effort to help these locally - supported schools meet the costs of the tremendous growth they face during the coming decade."

Here's Stiern's plan:

Junior college districts would apply for state aid by Aug. 15 each year starting in 1965, giving their current enrollment and the next year's estimated attendance.

Then, the present enrollment figure would be divided by the estimate for the coming year—the result being divided by the figure obtained from dividing the total assessed valuation of all junior college districts by the total state jaycee enrollment.

"Making growth the basis for state aid is the fairest way of apportioning this money," Stiern commented. "This way we make sure the colleges which absorb the largest numbers of new students under the master plan get the largest share of state aid."

A recent survey said 407,775 full-time students would attend California junior colleges by 1975. The survey said handling that increase would cost $669.90 million.

Local taxes pay most of the cost of running the colleges.

Roy Brown Due Out Of Hospital

Publisher Roy A. Brown of the Independent - Journal was to leave San Rafael General Hospital today to continue convalescing at home, his doctors said.

Brown entered the hospital Dec. 28 to undergo treatment for a bleeding ulcer. "He has been responding well to treatment," said Dr. William M. Edwards Jr.

Dr. Edwards said Brown will be allowed no visitors except members of his family.

Condemned Youth Back On Death Row

The number of men on Death Row of San Quentin Prison rose to 51 yesterday with the return of Carl Alfred Quick, 20, who received a new death sentence in Orange County Superior Court last week.

Quick was convicted of the 1962 strangling murder of a 19-year old Orange County girl. Last May 21 Quick was granted a new penalty trial on the basis of a State Supreme Court decision to grant a new penalty trial to a man when the jury in the case was told a life sentence would make the criminal eligible for parole in seven years.

Taft-Hartley Law Hit By Young Demos

Marin Young Democrats last night adopted resolutions calling for repeal of sections of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law and McCarran-Water Immigration Law.

The teen-age Democrats advocated repeal of section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Law, which opens the door for state right-to-work laws. They called for repeal of the section of the McCarran-Walter Law setting up the immigration quota system.

Both resolutions were offered by Bob Black. Both passed unanimously.

Willie Clay, College of Marin student from Mississippi who was scheduled to speak to the meeting in the courthouse, failed to appear.

Quentin Roosevelt, the youngest son of Theodore Roosevelt, was the only presidential son killed in action for his country.

Kettenhofen Urges Departmental Status, Expansion Of County Rec Commission

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen recommended yesterday that the county parks and recreation division be given full department status.

Kettenhofen also recommended at a meeting of the board of supervisors that the parks and recreation commission be enlarged from five to seven members.

"There would be a commissioner from each district as well as two at large," he suggested.

The board took no action on the recommendations but indicated they would be discussed at a joint meeting with the parks and recreation commission at 8 p.m. Monday at the Civic Center. The joint session was scheduled for discussion of the proposed master plan on parks, recreation and open space.

Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson recommended that the county accept the $2,000 offered by the National Audubon Society toward purchase of 11.1 acres of tidelands off Strawberry Point. The board took no action on it, however.

The society offered its contribution on the condition that the tidelands be made a part of the adjacent wildlife sanctuary.

The board received a letter in opposition to the tideland purchase from Jorgen V. Lunding of 241 Riviera Drive, San Rafael, who said "taxpayers' money is being used by Supervisor (Peter H.) Behr as a campaign fund to buy voters in the Strawberry area."

The board also received a letter from William Greenwalo, regional manager of the State Department of Fish and Game, that the department has recommended that recreational projects be included in the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Projects by the Army Corps of Engineers.

The fish and game department recommended development of a small park on state lands beneath Highway 101 Greenbrae interchange, a boat launching ramp, and public access along the levees in the tidewater area.

Nelson reported the recreation commission wants to develop a long-range plan for Ocean Parkway development along the Bolinas waterfront.

Nelson asked that the public works department's plan for developing a parking area at the end of Maple Avenue in Bolinas be held up until a plan for the area is developed. Donald R. Frost, public works director, said he had no objection.

Supervisors advised Nelson to hold hearings in Bolinas on any plans he has for the area.

Supervisor Behr said he would like to see the Bolinas Lagoon zoned as an open area.

SEN. JACK SCHRADE
Speaks tonight

Lawmaker To Address Marin GOP

State Sen. Jack Schrade (R-San Diego) will speak tonight at a meeting of the Marin County Coordinating Council of the California Republican Assembly.

Senator Schrade's topic will be "Governor Brown's $4 Billion Budget and You," according to Chairman Robert D. Weinmann.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers of the Civic Center.

Officers will also be elected by the San Rafael, Corte Madera, and Mill Valley units of the California Republican Assembly.

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A quick-spreading fire destroyed a three-story downtown hotel today, killing at least one person. Five others were believed missing. Fifteen to 20 guests fled the flames. One man was critically injured.

Russian Language Will Not Be Taught

Russian will not be taught in the San Rafael High School District next school year.

The San Rafael Board of Education, after considerable discussion last night, voted 3-2 to table a proposed two-year course in Russian.

Most violently opposed was board member Belia H. Aaron, who declared no language could be mastered in two years and the suggestion was not in keeping with the contiguity of language courses the board is trying to establish from the elementary level through high school.

Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat, who surveyed 25 colleges for information on Russian, reported that 16 said San Rafael graduates would be able to continue Russian at their schools. Four said the students could not continue and five said they did not offer any Russian.

Voydat also had figures on high school students studying Russian in California, saying there were none eight years ago, but 1,781 in 1961 and 2,167 in 1963.

Mrs. Aaron countered these figures by citing a total language enrollment of 386,390 in California schools in 1963.

Plane Uses Satellite For Communication

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Pan American Airways jet used an antenna 20,000 miles high — a satellite — today to communicate with ground stations in the United States and Australia, the first air-ground signal exchange via satellite. The Pan Am Clipper, en route from San Francisco to Honolulu, sent and received messages through Syncom III.

Greyhound Wants Out On Commutes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Western Greyhound Lines would like to drop its San Francisco Bay Area commute service entirely, according to President Ralph E. Thomas.

In testimony before the Public Utilities Commission, Thomas said yesterday that Greyhound is "not interested in promoting the commute services" because it would only mean losing more money.

The company is seeking a 20 per cent increase in commute fares between San Francisco and Marin and Contra Costa counties, and a $2 book boost for Peninsula commute books. Thomas said labor costs make a fare increase necessary.

Asked what the company had done to encourage passenger traffic, Thomas admitted that the company had spent very little money on advertising—only $165 in 1963 and 1964 for commute service.

TIE-BREAKER HOME

Vote On Church's Plan Deadlocked

San Rafael Planning Commissioner Pat Hetherton followed his customary practices of going home when the hour grew late last night, unaware that his colleagues would need his tie-breaking vote badly in the wee small hours.

To the dismay of Rev. John Tierney, the commission reached two 3-3 deadlocks on whether to grant architectural approval for an auditorium at St. Sylvester's Church on San Pedro Road near Biscayne Drive, Peacock Gap.

At the heart of the stalemate was City Planner George H. Rodgers's contention that someone had goofed in 1962 by letting the Catholic archdiocese have a use permit without first dedicating a 30-foot strip for eventual widening of San Pedro Road.

Rodgers said nothing further should happen until this was corrected.

"Gentlemen," said Father Tierney, "I'll have to get up on Sunday and tell my congregation that you knocked us down."

Commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson moved for unconditional approval. Vote was 3-3, with Commissioners John A. Miskimen and V. Judson Klein, and Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. voting no.

Klein then moved to approve it, "subject to the dedication." But this, too, came out 3-3, with Hendrickson, Thomas R. O'Toole and Carl S. Brown voting against it.

Lot-Split Rule Study Ordered

Marin County supervisors yesterday ordered further study of the lot-split ordinance passed as an emergency measure last October.

When the supervisors passed the ordinance they agreed to review it within 90 days. Yesterday they referred it back to the planning commission for revision.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer said there is much opposition to the ordinance in West Marin, and suggested some way be found to ease requirements there.

The ordinance calls for improvements such as curbs, gutters and drainage when there are divisions of land into two or three parcels.

Attorney Charles Pierce, representing West Marin landowners, suggested divisions of land into lots of more than one acre be excepted.

The Leagues of Women Voters of Southern and Central Marin urged that the ordinance include a provision that land divisions would be considered in relation to any master plan.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Received notice from the Marin Council of Community Services that there are three vacancies on the citizens' advisory committee on programs for older citizens, two to be appointed by the board, but postponed action on appointments for one week.

2. Authorized a contract for the county to pay $15,000 to the Marin Art and Garden Center for rental of the center for the 1965 county fair.

3. Supported a resolution of the Humboldt County Board of Supervisors requesting congressional action for flood control for the Eel River and other northwestern California streams.

4. Appointed attorneys S. J. Hugh Allen and Thomas C. Nelson to the Marin County Law Library board.

5. Granted the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society, the lone bidder, a 25-year lease at $1 a year on St. Hilary's Wildflower Park.

6. Authorized the county counsel's office to prepare a resolution backing establishment of a job corps camp at Point Reyes National Seashore, to be sent to officials in Washington.

7. Set for Feb. 16 public hearing on an amendment to the Marinwood Master Plan, requiring 10,000 square foot lots in undeveloped hillside areas northwest of the developed areas.

8. Approved appointments of Alice Wevang, senior stenographer, personnel department; Larry L. Lewis, junior civil engineer, and Betty J. Thompson, janitress, both in public works department, Edward M. Nissen, data processing analyst, data processing bureau; Linda Cassidy, and Sandra G. Gray, both intermediate stenographer clerk in planning department; and Audrey Simmons, senior stenographer clerk, medical department.

Hub City Councilmen Hold Off On Spending

San Anselmo City Council kept a tight rein last night on spending for two new positions of recreation director and building inspector.

City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt recommended the council buy a new car for Andrew Snyder, who was hired last week for the newly created job of parks and recreation director at $745 a month.

"Just because he's the new parks and recreation director is no reason to get him a straight eight," said Mayor William Franchini.

The mayor suggested a used car or truck could be used by the new man. Councilman Woodrow V. Cappuro was in accord and wanted to know whether "every time we hire a new man he has to have a new auto. Where does it stop? I suppose the building inspector will have to have one, too."

The council delayed decision to Feb. 9.

The council was equally tightfisted on Flautt's request for higher pay for building inspector to attract better-qualified applicants.

When he advertised the job at $530 a month, Flautt said, he got nine applications from elderly men and one from a young disabled pensioner.

Councilmen told him to advertise again, at the same salary.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Adopted an amendment to the fire ordinance changing the westerly limits of fire zone one to conform with the limits of the business district. This excludes an area behind Owl Rexall Drug Store and Safeway Store, extending toward Cedar Avenue, formerly in zone one.

2. Passed a resolution recommending the Golden Gate Bridge District reduce tolls on Greyhound buses from $1 to 13 cents, providing Greyhound does not raise fares.

3. Authorized another appraisal of the Ongaro property on the site of Parking lot 'A,' to be made by Roy Farrington Jones for not more than $300.

4. Asked the planning commission to study and recommend changes in the setback requirements on Magnolia Avenue to allow for the street widening from 25 feet to 40 feet.

5. Gave Ghillotti Brothers an additional 50 days to complete the Tunstead Avenue Bridge and street widening.

6. Approved reappointment of N. M. Murray and Wilbur Nicol to the parks and recreation commission and reappointment of William Davis to the board of review.

7. Continued to Feb. 9 hearing on James Gallagher's appeal from planning commission denial of a lot split on Center Road.

8. Approved placing a street light at 140 Alyn Avenue.

Larkspur Zone Law Changes Get Approval

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night approved several minor changes in the zoning ordinance on parking, uses in commercial zones and the keeping of animals.

New officers were elected on the commission for 1965, with William G. Fleckles replacing William P. Schnell as chairman and Schnell moving to vice chairman.

Lesly A. Daveler, former mayor, objected to the parking requirements for apartments in the ordinance amendments were too stringent, and Niels Schultz Jr. asked that standards for parking stall sizes be changed. Neither request was granted.

Another new restriction, if approved by the city council, will limit possession to two dogs or cats in any home in a residential zone.

Tracks Leave Clue To Missing Vehicle

William H. Paraspolo of 158 Crescent Road, Corte Madera, last night left his night class at Sir Francis Drake High School to find his Japanese motorcycle missing from the parking lot.

Later a janitor reported finding motorcycle tire tracks across the football field to Fern Avenue, San Anselmo police said.

Clausen Named To Road Groups

Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) has been assigned to two road and highway subcommittees of the House of Representatives.

Congressman Clausen announced in Washington that he would remain on the House Public Works Committee and on its subcommittees on Flood Control and Rivers and Harbors.

In addition, Clausen was chosen to serve on the Roads Subcommittee and on the Special Subcommittee on the Federal Aid Highway Program.

Collision Hurts Young Passenger

Five-year-old William B. Kuder Jr. of Belvedere suffered tongue and lip cuts yesterday when he was thrown from the rear seat of a car against the front windshield in an accident on the Golden Gate Bridge.

The driver, Noelle D. De Forest of Belvedere, was cited by California Highway Patrolmen for following another car too closely. Patrolmen said the southbound De Forest car struck the rear of one driven by Henry Wachs, 100 Edgewood Avenue, Mill Valley, as Wachs slowed while approaching the toll plaza.

Kuder, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Kuder, 170 San Rafael Avenue, was treated at Park Emergency Hospital, San Francisco.

GALLINAS, LUCAS VALLEYS ZONED

San Rafael Commissioners Vote Garden Apartments, Single-Family Areas

After much discussion, San Rafael planning commissioners last night zoned most of the Las Gallinas and Lucas valleys within the city to single-family and garden apartment districts, but allowed 338 acres still owned by the Freitas family to stay unclassified until June.

After an hour of discussion over specific parts of the area, commissioners got into their own debate as to whether they should zone the entire area in one action or go at it piecemeal.

They agreed in principle that it should be zoned as a single entity, but went ahead and voted on it a section at a time.

Both voted against the two motions which exempted the Freitas property. The other five commissioners went along with Walter F. Freitas's plea that his family's 338 acres be unzoned.

O'Toole also voted against rezoning the Pimentel, Nunes and Fagundes Ranch and Pell properties to single-family, 7,500 square foot lots. He was joined by Commissioner Carl S. Brown in opposing the same zoning for the two acres owned by Robert Busse across Northgate Drive from Northgate Shopping Center.

Busse's two acres took up much of the lengthy hearing, as Busse sought to persuade commissioners to leave his property unzoned indefinitely.

Also contributing to the marathon aspects of the commission's five-hour session was a long, inconclusive hearing on Marin Master Builders' tentative map for the 148-lot Twelveoak Hill Unit Five.

The commission reached a deadlock with developer Charles Clifford over whether he should be required to dedicate 2.1 acres to fit in with county plans for widening and straightening Lucas Valley Road.

City Planner George H. Rogers recommended the commissioners turn down the map unless Clifford's firm dedicated the land. Clifford refused, saying it was neither legal nor necessary.

He contended there was room for widening the newer, straighter portion of the road on the other side of the old, winding one — not on his property.

ANOTHER KIND OF CLASS DUE

Maybe its the same way in the world of education.

The San Rafael Board of Education last night accepted the gift of an anonymous donor of some almost-new carpeting for use in the administration building. There is only enough for two offices.

The board did not ask where it would go, but it was obvious from the smile on his face that Supt. Bert C. Corona will have carpet in his office.

According to year-end estimates by the U.S. Department of Commerce, about one out of five American families are in the $10,000-and-up income bracket.

College Trustees Pore Over Building Plans

Trustees of Marin Junior College District last night pored over plans of door jambs, light fixtures and steel trusses in a minute examination of final working drawings of the music-drama-speech building for the Kentfield campus.

Architect Corwin Booth of Falk and Booth, San Francisco, spent much of the five-hour meeting explaining the difficulties of soundproofing a building where one person may be practicing on drums and another person in the next room may be practicing a trumpet while in the next room a recording session may be in progress.

In areas where recordings will be made, the wiring for fluorescent lighting will be scrambled in a special way.

In addition to the sound problems, Booth noted, there will be water problems, since the basement under the stage will be below floodwater level. Piers will be sunk to bedrock, about 30 feet below the ground in some places, and a heavy concrete slab will be poured to avoid seepage.

Booth said that slight changes asked, such as a wood floor, rather than concrete for the rehearsal rooms, and walkways from Laurel Avenue outside the building, can be made by tomorrow's 8 p.m. board meeting, at which formal approval of working drawings is expected.

The building, between the two present art buildings and extending toward Laurel Avenue, is expected to cost about $1,467,019, according to an estimate in September.

Underground Utilities Squeak Past Planners

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night voted 4-3 to recommend an ordinance requiring underground utility lines in new subdivisions.

Commissioners accepted City Planner George H. Rodgers' recommendation that "streamlined" utilities (with metal poles, overhead wires and underground lead-ins) be permitted where the subdivider can prove that a full underground system would be impractical.

The split vote came after Rodgers submitted figures showing that undergrounding had cost as much as $640 for a 60-foot lot in some subdivisions.

Commissioner Pat Hetherton, who voted for delay on the ordinance two weeks ago, broke a commission deadlock by voting for approval.

Hendrickson contended the ordinance would be enforceable. He argued that its main concern was with esthetics, rather than the public health, safety or welfare.

He recalled the city council's recent directive stating the planning commissioners should not be "esthetic watchdogs" in regard to advertising signs, and charged the council was being inconsistent to turn around and seek a utilities ordinance based on esthetic concerns.

Hendrickson predicted the ordinance might be held unconstitutional if challenged in court.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Held first public hearings on the request of Hujon, Inc., to rezone the Loch Lomond Highlands development from unclassified to single family zoning with 10,000-square foot lots, and on Pierotti and Barghini's application to rezone part of a lot at 1487 Lincoln Avenue from single family to transient residential zoning. Each will have second hearing Feb. 9.

2. Received copies of Planner Rodgers' proposal for a slope control ordinance, but agreed to postpone discussion until Feb. 9, to allow interested persons to look it over.

3. Granted, by 4-2 vote, Dr. Robert Foehr's request for a variance permit for an addition to his office at 1721 Fifth Avenue which would encroach one foot two inches in the rear yard. Commissioner O'Toole and chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. voted no. Architectural approval was granted unanimously.

4. Approved 4-2 the 40-lot tentative map of Las Colindas Unit Ten, subject to several conditions regarding lot sizes, setbacks and paving. Commissioners John A. Miskimen and V. Judson Klein voted no.

5. Denied Guy Duryee's application to make two lots by combining an adjacent one with his own substandard lot. Denial was based on the original subdivision, before Duryee bought it, having been illegal.

6. Approved a use permit and granted architectural approval to Dr. Thelma Olsen for the Religious Science Church to remodel a building at 918 C Street, but postponed approval of the building's sign until more detailed plans are shown.

7. Voted 4-2 to grant Robert Rosenblatt of 27 Graceland Drive a belated permit for a six-foot fence where a three-foot one is normally permitted. The fence encroaches six inches into street right of way. Commissioners Miskimen and O'Toole voted no. Rosenblatt must now seek an encroachment permit.

8. Granted use permit and architectural approval to Marie K. Doyle for converting a duplex at 1340 Lincoln Avenue to an office.

9. Gave architectural approval for a change in the facade of Off Campus West, private teenage recreation center at 70 Woodland Avenue.

Panels Set On Utilities Underground

Developers, utility engineers and planners will give their views on placing utilities underground Feb. 4 at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

Two discussions are scheduled for the public seminar, sponsored by the City of Tiburon and the Fairfax Citizens Study Group.

Following an optional dinner at the seminary, the first panel at 7:45 p.m. will begin discussion of the theoretical and aesthetic aspects of placing utilities underground.

Speakers will be Ellis B. Langley, north bay division sales manager for Pacific Gas and lectric Co.; B. D. Dobbs, Marin County director of planning; Paul McCloskey, special attorney for the City of Woodside; Len McVicar, chairman of the technical advisory committee for the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

At 9 p.m. another panel will consider the practical side of placing utilities underground. Its speakers will be James Austin, superintendent of the electrical department of the City of Oakland; Carl Martineau, consulting electrical engineer and vice mayor of Freemont; Ernest Kramm, public relations consultant for the Electrical Contractors Assn.; Sam Kauffman, of Brown and Kauffman, builders and developers operating in Marin and on the Peninsula.

Youths Get Jail, Fines For Altering Driver Licenses

A sentence of one day in Marin County Jail to two San Francisco youths charged with altering the birthdates on their driver's licenses was handed down by Judge Joseph G. Wilson yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

In addition, the two, Daniel Randy Summerville, 18, and James Henry Plaja, 19, were fined $29 each and placed on a year's probation. The sentences included punishment for a second misdemeanor count of having beer illegally in their possession.

A third youth, Wayne Stephen Coleman, 18, also of San Francisco, was charged only with the possession count. He was fined $29 and put on a year's probation.

The three were arrested by Marin County seriff's officers on Highway 101 near Marinwood last Saturday. Sommerville and Plaja admitted having used a photo-copying machine at San Francisco Public Library to alter their licenses.

The youths told deputies that many of their friends had also tried the copying process.

In passing judgment, Judge Wilson said he was more concerned over the altering violation than the possession of beer. He said the day in jail was mainly to impress the youths with the seriousness of intent to deceive.

Tiburon Peninsula Club Elects Officers

J. Donald McCune was re-elected to another year's term as president of the Tiburon Peninsula Club at the annual membership meeting last night.

Mrs. E. Joseph Keller, Lowell A. Airola, Mrs. Jim James and McCune were elected to the board of directors. They, with other directors, then elected the president, Joseph W. Royer as vice president, Airola as secretary and David C. Kilmer as treasurer.

RECLUSE AIDS OTHERS IN HER PLIGHT

OAKLAND (AP)—For almost 40 years Mae M. McCracken lived in seclusion, passing her monthly rent checks under the landlord's door, visiting no one, and collecting things.

When she died Jan. 11 at the age of 84, investigators from the Public Administrator's Office went to the house to total up a life's accumulation.

In the basement of the cluttered house they found piles of used tin cans, chests of old clothes and, tucked away in an old bathrobe, $60,000 in U.S. bonds.

A will decreed that the estate be used to assist homeless and destitute Americans with loans of up to $500.

Life insurance of all types is most widespread among middle income families and those with young children, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. Among family heads under age 65, nine out of 10 are insured.

Detroit Smog Stall Charged By Board

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—County supervisors have urged the U.S. Justice Department to take action aimed at preventing further delay in engine modifications by the auto industry to prevent air pollution.

In a resolution adopted by the supervisors, Detroit auto makers were charged with "collusive action" to delay the modifications.

Supervisor Warren M. Dorn said that unless the federal government acts promptly, auto manufacturers may not meet stricter pollution standards required by the state in 1970 and 1980.

Dorn said federal authorities should investigate "possible violations of the laws concerning conspiracies, monopolies, product fixing, restraint of trade and unfair competition."

"For ten years," Dorn said, "the people of California suffered from smog and paid the bill for the control while the auto industry observed and proclaimed itself helpless to reduce emissions from auto exhaust — the major part of the problem.

"Only after companies outside of the industry developed workable controls and the auto industry was faced with the cold reality that it would have to purchase and install these devices, did the auto manufacturers suddenly discover that they could reduce these emissions by simple adjustments in the engine, made in the factory," Dorn said.

Fifty March of Dimes Birth Defects Center for the care and treatment of children born defective are supported by the National Foundation-March of Dimes throughout the country. Three times that number are needed to meet the problem of birth defects, the Foundation says.

DEFENSE WINS A ROUND

Mrs. Lucille Miller, on trial for allegedly murdering her husband by setting their auto afire, talks with defense attorney Edward P. Foley in San Bernardino Superior Court yesterday, after Judge Edward Fogg barred the prosecution from showing the jury a movie made of a test in which a similar auto was deliberately burned. Mrs. Miller claims the fatal fire was an accident. (UPI Telephoto)

Nursery School Praised, But Promised No Money

The San Rafael Community Nursery School was given several words of praise but no promise of funds by the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

Mrs. Norma Pennington, president of the non-profit, cooperative school, appeared before the board to tell of the school's plight and ask for encouragement and assistance.

The school, now on San Rafael High School property on Third Street near the football field, must be moved to make room for campus development.

The plan to haul the building to another site on the campus at Embarcadero Way and Mission Avenue hit a snag when it was discovered this project would have to include repair of the building to meet standards of the state fire marshal. This would cost about $25,000.

Mrs. Pennington said parents have decided to build a new building. She asked the board's permission to start plan preparations. She also asked what money the school district could give to the project.

Board members assured Mrs. Pennington that the site at Mission and Embarcadero is still available. They recalled they had once budgeted $5,000 toward cost of moving the building, and said they might try to budget this amount again, but they could make no promise last night.

Mrs. Pennington said her group would probably have to have a long-term lease on the land to get a building loan, and the school district might have to be a co-signer. The board doubted the legality of this.

The board last night formally set a tax and bond election to be consolidated with the city election April 12, but split 3-2 on calling the bond election.

The board is asking an increase from $1.75 to $2.25 per $100 as the maximum general operating tax for the elementary district. It is also asking approval of $850,000 in bonds to construct 10 multi-purpose rooms in the elementary district. (Total tax rate of the elementary district this year is $2.295; many levies are not included in the voter-approved limit.)

Board Chairman C. Paul Bettini and member Belia H. Aaron voted against the bond measure. In discussion two weeks ago, they had argued that approval of the tax increase was vital and might be penalized by including a bond issue.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

1. Authorized a new position of statistical clerk in the business office. Business Manager Charles L. Condrotte said starting salary will be $400 a month.

2. Agreed to meet at 8 p.m., Feb. 16 at the Civic Center with members of the Dixie School District board to discuss unification and perhaps suggest a date for an election.

3. Saw a tentative calendar for next school year calling for classes to start Sept. 7 and continue to June 16, providing 179 days of teaching. Supt. Bert C. Corona said the calendar is still being discussed by school staff.

4. Learned from member Carl J. Brown that a bridge 26 feet wide at Knight Drive near Glenwood school would cost $21,000. Brown said the City of San Rafael, which would pay half the cost of the project, wants the bridge 34 feet wide. This would cost $27,000. Brown said he will attempt to have the city agree to pay all the extra cost.

5. Learned that an application is being prepared for National Defense Education Act funds to expand the new reading program in elementary schools, conducted this year in three first grades. The program uses tape recordings and other supplemental devices. Total cost would be $14,594.

6. Learned that San Rafael pupils and teachers have contributed nearly $800 toward the rebuilding of Klamath School, destroyed by the Christmas week floods. Schools throughout Marin County are making contributions toward rebuilding of the school.

7. Hired Patricia Burgess and Mrs. Carol L. Carr as elementary school teachers, and Mrs. Patricia M. Larrick, Francis Lum and Mrs. Ingeborg E. Thompson as high school teachers.

8. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Saramy Borders, teacher in a high school mentally retarded class.

9. Hired Glenn Blakney as a custodian, Mrs. Mercedes Castillo as a high school matron, Richard Conle as a bus driver, Mrs. Iona Damazio as a bus driver, and David Lawrence as a custodian.

10. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Virginia Gilman as bus driver, and Charles R. Rowan as custodian.

Just Food In Dormitory

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Someone spotted smoke billowing from the 10th floor of a student dormitory at University of Arkansas Medical Center here and called the fire department.

Two fire chiefs, two ladder trucks and four pumpers answered the alarm.

Novato Sanitation Board Approves Map

The Novato Sanitary Board last night approved the final map of Meadowbrook Estates subdivision of 14 lots south of Center Road between Paladini Drive and Kendon Lane. It also approved an outside service agreement for the subdivision.

Mrs. Inez Burdick of 617 Rowland Boulevard was hired as secretary clerk at $415 per month.

East-West Road Report Awaited

The State Division of Highways is expected to have a preliminary recommendation on the location of Highway 17, the proposed east-west highway to West Marin, next month, according to County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Marin County supervisors received conflicting resolutions from two cities yesterday on the routing of the highway. They decided to postpone discussion on the route until the state report is made.

The City of Larkspur submitted a resolution recommending that the proposed highway connect with Highway 101 in the southerly part of San Rafael and "extend westerly to serve the upper Ross Valley as well as the westerly portion of the county."

The City of Fairfax submitted a resolution that the proposed route should be from Highway 101 at or near the Civic Center and along a ridge route, by-passing Fairfax to connect with the Shoreline Highway.

"I agree with Fairfax and disagree with Larkspur," said Kettenhofen.

Donald R. Frost, public works director, submitted a progress report on studies of routes that would connect the Terra Linda area with upper Ross Valley.

The study shows a route from Lucas Valley Road to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the top of White's Hill, with laterals that would connect to Sleepy Hollow via Butterfield Road and to Oak Manor, Frost reported.

"Also shown is an extension of Manuel T. Freitas Parkway to Butterfield Road in the vicinity of Fawn Drive," he reported.

Because of the topography, there would be extremely heavy grading, resulting in high construction cost and substantial right of way acquisition, Frost said.

He estimated total costs at $1,050,000 a mile for two-lane roads.

Funds Offered To Acquire Elephant Rock

The Marin Conservation League yesterday offered to provide the funds to acquire Elephant Rocks, in Tomales Bay, east of Dillon Beach, for preservation as open space.

The offer came in a letter to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

"This is really wonderful," said Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

Supervisors accepted, authorized a survey to determine the acreage that will be required, and authorized County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to negotiate for the property.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said that use of the area is indicated in the county's master plan for parks and recreation.

Three acres is identified as the minimum wayside area and 10 acres as a scenic area, he said.

Downtowns' Destruction Is Predicted

Virtual destruction of downtown San Anselmo and Fairfax would be the result if the extension of Highway 17 to West Marin is allowed to run through the two cities, Marin County Superintendent Ernest N. Kettenhofen told the San Anselmo City Council last night.

"There is to be no compromise," said the supervisor. "This is to be an absolute freeway."

The state division of highways would prefer to have it run through San Anselmo and Fairfax along the present route of the Miracle Mile and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, he added.

"I am confident we can stop it by keeping a close watch" on the highway division, Kettenhofen said.

He asked the council to defer passing any resolution on the proposed route for the highway until the state completes a study of traffic movements in the county. This should be finished next month, he said.

A hearing on the route for the freeway will be held "by spring," Kettenhofen said.

Novato Retitles Executive's Post To City Manager

Novato acquired a city manager last night.

By unanimous vote, the Novato City Council amended its city administrator ordinance to change the title to city manager.

Councilman J. Wayne Womack said that the original city council had copied a city manager ordinance for duties, but was reluctant to put that title on the office.

J. Julien Baget, who has been city administrator since shortly after Novato incorporated, will assume the new title.

It won't change his pay of $16,250 per year, Councilmen jokingly told him not to ask for a raise this year, since he has a bigger title.

You Can Be Mother To Cat

CHICAGO (UPI) — Keep a lion away from its own kind from birth, and it won't know it's a cat, says Lincoln Park Zoo Director Dr. Lester Fisher.

"If a cat sees only people and not other cats, it becomes people-oriented," he said. "Let's face it. If you raise a cub from birth, to that cat you'refeY birth, to that cat you're mother."

Big cats possess a remarkable number of human traits. They are creatures of habit, even in their wild state, and are at best in well-known surroundings. All cats, both domestic and wild, establish certain living areas or

To Seek GOP Post

FRESNO (UPI)—O. L. Bane of nearby Reedley said today he will seek the presidency of the California Republican Assembly when the volunteer political organization holds its San Diego convention in March.

Homeowners Unit Signing Delayed

Because of absence of Novato Mayor Robert D. Carrow, the signing of the incorporation papers for the San Marin Homeowners Assn. was postponed until the Feb. 23 meeting of the group at the Marion School.

Carrow was instrumental in getting the group organized.

Five committee chairmen were appointed. They are: Mrs. Sidney S. Steele of 155 San Carlos Way, welcoming; Richard Willett of 121 San Felipe Way, schools; Robert A. Wise, of 185 San Carlos Way, recreation center; Jack Plumb of 38 San Ramon, social events, and Jerry Smith of 26 San Bonito Way, public relations.

Man Walks Through Window

LONDON (UPI) — A $1,700, 25-by-100 foot window had to be replaced recently in the Pan Am sales office here.

A Pakistani gentleman with ticket troubles came into the office. A counter clerk, realizing his passage back home was on another carrier, told the man:

Hospital Officials Given Pay Hike

The Marin Hospital District board last night voted annual salary increases of $1,200 each to Administrator William W. Turner and his assistant, Robert Mathews.

The raises brought Turner's pay to $22,800 a year, and Mathews' to $12,000. The action came after a short executive session for a "merit review" of the work of the two.

The board received a letter from the Babcock Foundation endorsing a proposal for a home care program operated by the hospital. A meeting with foundation representatives was set for March 6 at Marin General Hospital to hear Dr. Dean A. Clark, research professor of medicine and hospital administration at the graduate school of public health, University of Pittsburgh.

Directors Paul Kent and Hadden W. Roth and Turner were named to a committee to start negotiations with the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco for purchase of about four acres across Bon Air Road from the hospital for a parking lot.

The board decided to study establishment of a foundation to seek contributions for this and other hospital projects.

A special ceremony was set for 12:15 p.m. Feb. 9 for official dedication of the original wing of the hospital as the Greunhagen Wing, for Mrs. Kenny Greunhagen, who donated more than $600,000 to construction of the new wing.

Roth was appointed to study the need for a mental health center for Marin County.

Fire Ruins Kentfield Home Worth $17,000

Fire destroyed an unoccupied $17,000 home at 75 Tamalpais Road, Kentfield, early today, and investigation was launched to learn its cause.

A Larkspur fire truck went over a bank as it was trying to reach the blaze, but no one was hurt.

Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom blamed narrow roads and an almost total lack of water for the inability of 30 firemen with nine trucks to save at least part of the house.

Owner of the house is Frank H. Fuller, who lives in another home at the same address. He was awakened by a passer-by and called the Larkspur Fire Department at 2:12 a.m.

Larkspur sent 21 men with four trucks, then called the county department, which sent six men in four trucks. Three Kentfield firemen brought an additional truck to the scene.

Bloom said the Larkspur pumper went off the road at a washout on a narrow curve near the fire, hitting a tree.

Efforts to find out what caused the blaze were hampered by the degree of destruction, Bloom said. The entire house was in flames when firemen arrived, and the only source of water was a two-inch standpipe.

Some of the building still might have been saved had there been more water, Bloom said.

Fuller told firemen the house had not been rented for several weeks. He said there were relatively few furnishings in it, but Bloom said the total loss of house and contents would be estimated at $20,000.

Learn Now, Pay later Measure Introduced

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill introduced today in the Assembly would allow students at state colleges or the University of Califorina to delay paying tuition until after they graduate.

Under the "learn now, pay later" bill, authored by Assemblyman John L. E. Collier (R-Los Angeles), the tuition debts would be paid off on a graduated scale depending on the ex-student's annual earnings.

JAMES B. ATKIN
Fills school board vacancy

Attorney Named To Reed Board

Attorney James B. Atkin of 38 Alcatraz Avenue, Belvedere, last night was appointed a trustee of Reed School District.

The vote was three in favor and one abstaining. Mrs. Marilyn C. Steinau of Belvedere abstained, saying she would prefer to have a trustee appointed who was not an attorney, since the board already has one lawyer—David D. Ring.

Atkin formerly resided in the Del Mar area of Tiburon for three years and before that in San Francisco. He and his wife have three children.

The Reed School District board also:

1. Appointed Bel Air School teacher Donald Cowan as summer school principal at $950 for the session.

2. Gave final approval to the 11-acre South Ridge School construction site above and north of Reed School. It is largely owned by Samuel M. Shapero of Tiburon.

3. Approved a resolution urging Tamalpais High School District to proceed wtih plans for an April bond election for high school construction. The district has dropped election plans because of the uncertainty of unification.

4. Hired Mrs. Dorothy Abrahamson of Sausalito as sixth grade teacher at Reed School.

Convict Lake in Mono County was named after the mass prison escape of 1871 from the Carson City Penitentiary.

Novato Residents Stymied In Commercial Plan Protest

Neighbors found themselves stymied last night when they attended a Novato City Council meeting to protest a proposed commercial development at South Novato and Rowland boulevards.

C. P. Bedford had sought a permit for a gasoline station in connection with a Speedee-Mart grocery store there. Neighbors protested.

Moshia F. Smith of 1378 Joyce Street wanted a public hearing anyway to protest the grocery store. Mrs. Robert D. Money of 1382 Joyce Street objected that she had heard the market would be open late at night, causing noise.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow pointed out the area is zoned commercial, no permit is needed for a grocery store, and "the council has no jurisdiction on the hours which a commercial development stays open in a commercial zone."

By 3-to-2 vote, with Carrow and Councilman Jack Adams opposed, the council approved rezoning from agricultural to single and multiple family of four acres on Center Road and Diablo Avenue, asked by McGillicuddy Inc. An apartment building and a row of 10 single family dwellings are planned on the four acres.

The council granted John Lyddon a use permit for a mobile park on 120 acres south of Hamilton Air Force Base east of Highway 101. Plans for the park include 380 units on the 120 acres. All utilities are to be underground.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Adopted changes in the San Jose Boulevard Assessment District proceedings whereby the $6,000 remaining will be used for maintenance of the realigned San Jose Boulevard, now Ignacio Boulevard.

2. Adopted a single lot ordinance which requires street dedication, curbs and sidewalks be installed before a building permit can be issued.

3. Authorized that city cars hereafter be bought through the State Office of Procurement. This was done at suggestion of Charles Foster, director of finance, who said it would result in considerable saving.

4. Authorized spending $349 for a survey by the State Employee Retirement Fund on city personnel joining that plan.

5. Passed an ordinance reducing the carnival fee to $10 per day for each ride where only rides are involved. This is a reduction from the $300 for the first day and $100 for each succeeding day for full carnivals.

6. Received the budget report up to Dec. 31, showing the city had collected $255,544 of its estimated income of $757,925 and had spent $290,461.

Tax Is Proposed For Flood Aid

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation to raise the gasoline tax a penny a gallon to pay for repairing flood-damaged roads in Northern California was introduced today by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown proposed a similar tax, to end after six months, in his budget message to the legislature Monday. He also said he would send the legislature a special message on the flood situation.

Collier said his proposal would raise about $5.5 million a month, to be used for repair of local and state highways. He estimated damage to state highways at $32 million and local roads $29 million. He also suggested a temporary tax.

The antelope jackrabbit may be the largest rabbit species, but it can outrun most of the other animals.

Board Votes Fences Near Flood Project

The Marin County Board of Supervisors passed an ordinance yesterday requiring fencing on property adjacent to flood control facilities.

The ordinance, to become effective in 30 days, will apply to the unfenced portions of Coyote Creek.

Last week supervisors expressed concern over the safety of children in the area and approved fencing of county property along the creek in Tamalpais Valley.

The ordinance requires fencing to be at least six feet high and have no gaps larger than four inches except for door and gates with latches that are closed when not in use.

Violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor punishable by a $500 fine or six months in jail.

Vote for the ordinance was 3-0. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker was absent. Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who had a toothache, left for a dental appointment before the vote late in the afternoon.

Two File For School Posts

Two more candidates have filed declarations with the county schools office to seek school board posts in April 20 elections.

George McCartney Johnston, of Silver Hills Road, Point Reyes Station, filed as a candidate for the West Marin School District board today.

Dr. D. Gwynn Thomson of 312 Miller Creek Road, Marinwood, a physician, filed yesterday as a candidate for the Dixie School District board. He was an unsuccessful candidate two years ago for the San Rafael Board of Education.

Novato Hillside Cuts Arouse Mass Protest

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato residents, more than 800 strong, last night let the Novato City Council know that they want some action to stop the cutting of steep hills.

More than 40 people appeared in person and petitions bearing more than 800 signatures were presented to the council.

After more than two hours of discussion, the throng left with the promise that some of their members would be chosen for a committee to work with the city planning and public works departments on ordinances for an orderly hillside development.

Mrs. Stanley Cazneau of 7 Rowland Court, one of several who protested in late December about mud washed down from grading for K.D.N. Corp's. Kaden Park development, told the council she had spearheaded a drive among neighborhood homeowners' groups to get signatures on the petitions.

"We did not feel we had accomplished much with the earlier protest and wanted to get all of the groups together," she said.

Earl Aurelius of 580 Sunset Parkway, president of the Monte Maria Improvement Assn., held up the Belvedere grading control ordinance as an ideal one for Novato to copy.

Gerald P. King of 5 Rowland Court asked for "conservation of the hillsides and trees not only for the benefit of the property owners but for the community as a whole." He held up the 1962 Larkspur City ordinance as a better slope ordinance than Novato's.

Kent R. Bulfinch of 3 Carmel Drive, representing the Hidden Valley Homeowners' Assn., urged employment of a soils engineer on each job that required grading.

Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, said that would take more soils engineers in his department during the summer than he now has total employees.

Brice A. Sullivan of 575 Arthur Street asked for a moratorium on hillside building. This was supported by Jack O. Burgi of 575 McClay Road, representing the West Novato Homeowners Assn.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow said neither the city nor the state can deny an owner the right to develop his property.

"We must therefore go in conventional lines or some other direction in the development of the hillsides," he said.

City Planner Robert Lagle urged that the grading ordinance passed last September be given a chance to prove that it would work.

Lagle also said he is working on an ordinance to set different standards for hillside development than for flat ground.

Man Injured In Sausalito Fight

Joseph L. Bortin, 46, of San Francisco was treated for multiple cuts on his head at Marin General Hospital last night, then released, after a fight in a Sausalito apartment in which he was allegedly struck over the head with a wine jug.

Police said they were called at 8:50 p.m. by Patricia M. Corbett to the home of Erna Zanker, 7 Excelsior Lane, Apt. 6. Miss Corbett resides in Apt. 18 at the same address.

Broken glasses and bottles were found on the floor and Morris J. Fiksdal of 777 Bridgeway was in the bathroom washing blood from his face. Bortin said that he and Fiksdal got into an argument and someone hit him over the head with a half gallon jug of wine.

Drake Boulevard Speed Curb Voted

Marin County supervisors yesterday lowered the speed limit along a stretch of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and authorized funds for a guardrail as the aftermath of a tragedy.

A group of Greenbrae mothers demanded safety precautions after two young girls were killed Jan. 14 on the sidewalk of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Wolfe Grade on their way to Wolfe Grade School.

The board authorized a guard rail along the sidewalk between the pedestrian ramp serving the Greenbrae subdivision and the Wolfe Grade overpass, estimated to cost $7,200.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said he hoped to have the guard rail in place within 30 days.

The board also passed an ordinance, effective immediately, reducing the speed limit from 45 miles to 35 miles an hour along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the Larkspur city limits to Marin Catholic High School.

Frost also recommended widening of Drake Boulevard to four lanes west of Wolfe Grade to a point just beyond Laurel Grove Avenue. He estimated right-of-way costs at $170,000.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said the widening is an urgent need and should be undertaken as soon as possible.

Frost said if funds were made available, the project could possibly get under way in July.

However, supervisors delayed action on the widening until after their second hearing on the Kentfield General Plan Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center. They indicated they might take action on the widening the same night as the hearing.

As another outgrowth of the tragedy, supervisors approved job specifications for a traffic engineer, established the salary at a range of $829 to $1,008, and authorized County Administrator Alan Bruce to start recruiting.

Two Wheels, Tires Stolen From Truck

Robert Herman of Herman's Garden Supplies, 3825 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, reported to Marin County sheriff's officers yesterday the theft of two chromed wheels and two tires from his pickup truck parked at the firm's storage yard. He valued them at $100 total.

Joy Beckland, 92 Montego Key, Bel Marin Keys, told officers a $50 outside lamp was stolen during the weekend from his garage.

Deputies also reported theft of about $125 in jewelry from the home of Helen Cosma, 9 Juarez Avenue, Forest Knolls, sometime last week. No forced entry was evident, they said.

Rock-throwing vandals broke eight windows at Bel Aire School last Sunday, it also was reported. Officers said glass doors to several fire extinguisher boxes were shattered too.

Free Air Offer Overcomes Fears

BELGRADE (AP)—The Yugoslav National Airline took a planeload of selected air-scared passengers on a free ride to Dubrovnik and back to convince them that travel by plane was pleasant.

The free flight was open to persons who would admit they never had flown because they were scared. Five thousand applications were received and the airline selected 40 of those who sounded the most frightened.

These Children Are Inventive

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — A young Stuttgart father of three has invented a popular item for the younger set — out of plain cardboard.

From watching the kids play with an old box at home, Jay McEntire conceived the idea of a cardboard tepee that folds up.

He made one and his wife painted it. Then he took it to a Little Rock box manufacturing company . . . which liked the idea so much it turned out 500 tepees for sales trials.

Cab Company Hurls Charge Of 'Piracy'

San Rafael's Yellow Cab Co. accused San Anselmo's Yellow Cab Co. of "piracy" last night at a public hearing by the San Anselmo City Council on award of a taxi franchise.

The San Rafael company intends to apply for the franchise, said its lawyer, Phillip Kennedy. He charged the San Anselmo Anselmo company with unfairly using the Yellow Cab name and with listening in on the San Rafael company's radio frequency to steal its customers.

The San Anselmo company owner, J. Carl Youngberg, under fire from the city council as well, asked that the hearing be continued so he could bring his lawyer to defend him.

"I was not aware that the San Rafael cab company had a monopoly on the name Yellow Cab in San Anselmo," said Youngberg.

Councilmen said residents had complained of waiting as long as 45 minutes for a cab. "When you got this franchise, you promised good service," said Mayor Franchini.

Youngberg said he keeps four cabs on duty in San Anselmo but admitted they couldn't always handle peak periods. Any more cabs would mean too much idle time, he said.

Youngberg also admitted the company sends its cabs to other areas to seek business, but only when there is not enough to keep them busy in San Anselmo.

The council decided to continue the hearing, since Youngberg had not been notified of it in writing.

Narcotics Hearing Scheduled Tuesday

Preliminary hearing for Mary Meier, 29-year old Fairfax woman charged with passing a forged narcotics prescription, was scheduled today in Sonoma County Municipal Court for 3 p.m. Tuesday.

The suspect, of 26 Bruce road, was freed from Sonoma County Jail on $2,750 bail shortly before noon today. She allegedly passed the prescription for 36 tablets of Diloudid in Cotati on Jan. 8.

Mill Valley Planners Say Remove Plane From Park

The jet fighter plane in Boyle Park should be removed, Mill Valley planning commissioners last night recommended unanimously to the city council.

The planning commission thus took the opposite stand from the city's parks and recreation commission, which voted the previous night to ask that the plane be kept.

Commissioners endorsed the no-parking edict on the north side of East Blithedale Avenue between Dell Street and Camino Alto between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. Residents of the area have asked the subject be reopened by the city council Monday.

The commission discussed the East Mill Valley General Plan at length. It recommended that Enchanted Point property be raised from the present one to three dwelling units per acre to a higher density.

The commission agreed that Bothin Properties, extending from Dolan's Corner to Camino Alto along Miller Avenue, include multi-family uses as well as commercial - recreational uses.

On Feb. 23 the commission will review the plan and set it for a public hearing.

Commissioners recommended that the council deny an excavation permit sought by Frances Gelardi to excavate about 10,000 cubic yards of dirt at Shoreline Highway and Almonte Boulevard.

Chamber Passes Budget For 1965

Chamber Manager Jack Alvarado said the new budget is $8,500 lower than last year, the cuts being made through eliminating committee expense, travel accounts and other costs.

The chamber board yesterday also voted to make Col. Charles D. Chitty Jr., commander of the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base, an honorary member.

CERTIFICATES OF MERIT ARE VOTED

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, who fired three planning commissioners last week, agreed yesterday that departing commissioners should be given a certificate of merit for their services to the county.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr suggested the certificate be attractive and dignified and awarded as a "fitting token of service."

Supervisors authorized County Administrator Alan Bruce to have the certificates prepared for their approval and suggested that "a professional job" might be best.

Labor Calls Planner Dismissal A 'Slap'

The Marin County Labor Council has called the dismissal of George Scott from the county planning commission "a slap to organized labor."

Scott and two others were removed from the planning commission by the county board of supervisors in a recent upheaval. The board asked for resignation of all members of three commissions.

Scott said he considered himself removed from office but would not resign. Commissioners Henry C. Hankins and Edward K. Wachsman also refused to resign. The board removed the three and replaced them.

In a letter to the board of supervisors, the labor council says the matter was handled in a "very arbitrary manner" that disregarded the public interest and was an affront to organized labor.

Scott, a 10-year member of the planning commission, was appointed as labor's representative. He is president of the Marin County Building and Construction Trades Council, and past secretary manager of Local 83 of the Painters Union.

He was replaced by Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon, a former member of the planning commission.

The labor council's letter asks the board to reconsider its action and "give labor a place on this very important commission."

The letter was not read at yesterday's board of supervisors' session.

DATA PROCESSING CHANGES REJECTED

Supervisors Take Advice Of Administrator Rather Than Grand Jury Recommendation

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday found no reason to transfer the data processing bureau from the auditor-controller's jurisdiction to the county administrator, as recommended by the county grand jury.

The supervisors, however, approved formation of a citizen technical advisory committee, composed of impartial, independent persons, to make an annual review of the functions and operation of the bureau. Membership of the commission will be decided later.

The board set 3 p.m., Feb. 16, for a hearing on the grand jury's recommendation the county personnel files be moved from the auditor-controller's office to the personnel department.

GENERAL CONTROL

County Administrator Alan Bruce recommended that the board continue the interim arrangement whereby he is responsible for general control of the data processing bureau while County Auditor Michael Mitchell is responsible for day-to-day operating supervision.

"We do not find compelling reasons for complete removal of the data processing bureau from the jurisdiction of the auditor-controller at this time," Bruce said in a written report.

Bruce said the changes made in December, when the board split control of the bureau, should "be given a chance to work, during a transition period of two years."

NEW JOB

His recommendation was submitted to the board with an analysis of grand jury recommendations by John L. Gibb, senior administrative analyst.

Gibb, formerly assistant director of data processing, was transferred to his new job in Bruce's office as part of the interim revamping.

In answer to Bruce's recommendation, the grand jury committee held that ultimately the data processing bureau should be made a separate department.

The committee said the timetable for making a decision on the status of the bureau should not be left open. It urged supervisors to set the date of Jan. 1, 1967, as a firm date for data processing to become a separate department.

"In regard to the day-to-day operating control of the data processing bureau being under the auditor-controller, our opinion has not changed at all," the committee said.

In an analysis of the grand jury committee's earlier report, Gibb explained differences in charges to computer users.

"When county operations allow, outside companies are permitted to rent computer time if they assume responsibility for their own programs and results," Gibb reported. "The county provides the facility for specified hours at cost and the companies provide their own systems, programs, operating personnel and supplies."

There is no disparity in the fact that these companies are charged at a lower rate than county users or other public entities which are charged for complete data processing service, he said.

"Current rates are $54 an hour for computer rental by outside companies and $70 an hour for county user service, not $56.60 an hour and $75 an hour, respectively, as stated in the grand jury report," he said.

Democratic Club Votes Affiliation

The Novato Democratic Club, headed by president Joseph Forest, voted unanimously last night to affiliate with the California Democratic Council.

About 25 members of the club met at Cloud Five restaurant in Novato. They named as delegates or alternates to attend the California Democratic Council convention in Sacramento on March 19-21, Joseph Forest, William Carpenter, Al Lerch, and Jeanne Struck.

The natural processes related to streams are so universal that a study of them in one part of the world may be applied to conditions found in another part.

Raft Plays Real Crime Probe Role

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Movie tough guy George Raft, never cracking a smile and nattily attired in a blue suit with matching silk tie and handkerchief, was right in his element. Only this time it was for real.

The 69-year-old actor, who has portrayed mobsters in dozens of films since the 1930s, made a surprise appearance Tuesday before a federal grand jury investigating organized gambling in the Washington area.

Raft would say only that he had been subpoenaed, had flown in from California, and was excused "for the time being."

The Dingo, native wild dog of Australia, is believed to have been brought south by prehistoric man from Europe and Asia when these three continents were all one land mass.

San Rafael Board Balks At No Summer Session Idea

Members of the San Rafael Board of Education last night balked at the suggestion that there be no summer school classes this year at San Rafael High School.

Supt. Bert C. Corona suggested the summer session not be held at San Rafael because of construction work there. He said all high school students in the district could attend the session at Terra Linda.

Board members did not like the idea of putting a transportation barrier in the way students in the San Rafael High area.

Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat and Alfred N. Thomson, principal of San Rafael High, both said the summer program could offer a broader curriculum if it were consolidated.

Board members, however, asked study of the possibility of using a grammar school for summer high school classes.

Thailand Opens 225-Mile Road

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn today opened the last link in an asphalt road from Bankok to the Laotian border, cutting through the heart of the strategic northeastern provinces.

The 225-mile, $14-million road links Korat, 150 miles northeast of Bankok, with Nongkhai, a Thai border town on the Mekong River opposite Vientiane, the Laotian capital. Bangkok and Korat have been connected by a hardtop highway for years.

State To Slice College Money

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The legislature will shortly begin deciding to give each of California's junior colleges its share of $50 million in bond funds approved by voters last November.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today he was supporting legislation to be introduced shortly be Sen. Walter W. Stiern, D-Bakersfield.

Stiern, who sponsored similar legislation in 1963 for distribution of $20 million in bond money, will propose a formula under which the fastest growing junior college districts would receive the largest share of state aid.

Boy's Bike Taken

Peter Victorino, 214 Baltimore Avenue, Corte Madera, told police yesterday his bicycle was stolen from a sidewalk near 60 Redwood Avenue, where he was visiting a friend.

Rope Barricade Damages Cycle

Daniel Keener, 15, of San Anselmo escaped being thrown from his motor bike Monday when it hit a rope which had been stretched across Oak Crest Drive in Sleepy Hollow.

Keener was riding down the street near Jersey Road and Deer Hollow Road when he saw the rope ahead of him, slammed on the brakes and was able to stop the bike without overturning, reported his mother, Mrs. Bernard Keener, 981 Butterfield Road.

The rope was entangled in both wheels of the bike, causing $50 damage, she said.

ANNAPOLIS NOMINEE — Stephen M. Lind, a senior at San Rafael Military Academy and son of Capt. and Mrs. Irving L. Lind of Olympia, Wash., has been nominated for appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis by Rep. Julia Butler Hansen (D-Wash.).

St. Raphael's Pupils Assist Rural School

Since September, pupils at St. Raphael's School, San Rafael, have been making contributions to a rural school in Mexico started two years ago by Amigos Anonymous.

Amigos Anonymous, which functions much like the Peace Corps, is made up of university students who work in Mexico during 'heir summer vacations.

Each Friday since September, pupils at St. Raphael's have made donations to the school.

Recently they received thanks from Senorita Margarita Oliveros of Apaseo el Grande, Guanajuato State, Mexico. That is where San Rafael del Sur is located. Margarita recently came to San Rafael with her mother and brother to thank the pupils at St. Raphael's.

San Rafael del Sur started two years ago with two teachers and two rooms. This fall it began with five classes. Eventually it is hoped there will be classes covering all six grades. Now it goes only to second grade.

Among the Bay Area Amigos Anonymous who have worked to establish the Mexican school are Lydia Haran, Larry Luccheti, Paul Angaro and Maureen Donovan, all of San Rafael, Margaret Conger of Mill Valley and Arturo F. and Mary Baca, adult advisers from San Rafael. He is a Spanish teacher at Terra Linda High School.

Novato Residents Donate Blood

Ten Novato residents and one from Mill Valley responded to a recent plea from the Veterans of Foreign Wars for blood donations for a Novato member, Emile Richards.

Donating to the blood bank for the Donald V. Westlund Auxiliary 7816, VFW, were Messrs. and Mesdames Clarence Cook, Rubin Hendrickson, John Nicolay, Daniel J. Aughney and Mrs. Ruth Williams, Mrs. Stanley Onderdonk, as well as Frank Valim, Louis Cavallero and Pius Schwahn of Novato and Mrs. Joyce Carlson of Mill Valley, according to Mrs. Grover C. Owen, post publicity chairman.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Two New Drake's Butcher Owners; Insurance Law Firm Changes Name

New owners and operators of the meat department at Drake's Market, San Anselmo are Rudolf O. Huppert of San Anselmo and R. Breen Hofmann of San Geronimo. Both recently were with the wholesale meat jobbing firm of Pateck and Ecklon Co., and combined have racked up 25 years in the business.

Former owner Art Wilson now spends his time at Santa Venetia Meat Market.

PETER W. FISHER of Mill Valley is a member of the renamed insurance law firm Maloney, Chase, Fisher and Hurst which has been changed from Weinstock, Anderson, Maloney and Chase, San Francisco.

The change reflects the withdrawal of Roger Anderson from partnership Jan. 1 and the intended withdrawal of Sidney L. Weinstock Feb. 1. Both men are establishing other offices. The newly named firm will continue at 465 California Street.

Fisher has been with the office since 1955, and is active in the Assn. of Defense Counsel.

FRANK GEORGE, president of Redwood Travel Advisors, San Rafael, recently returned from a Mexican tour with vice president David L. Adams, notes that there is a new deluxe ferry service enabling travelers in Baja California to bypass difficult roads to La Paz. The ferry has room for cars and accommodations comparable to many of the larger cruise ships. Complete information is available from Consuelo C. de Hofer at Redwood.

MODELS OF HOMES with steel frames will be on display through Feb. 8 at Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Northgate office. Object is to show the unique possibilities in home construction when steel frames are used particularly on hillsides.

Work at Crocker - Citizens' main office building at Fourth and B streets, San Rafael has been progressing according to schedule. The entire structure should be ready for occupancy by May.

MAURICE G. READ, president of Mason - McDuffie Co., which recently opened a branch mortgage loan office at 1330 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, will be installed as president of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards Monday.

MILTON M. CERF, Peacock Gap resident and head of the Milton M. Cerf San Francisco agency of Bankers Life Co., is winner of his company's "New Manpower" plaque for 1964. The award is based on new business from contracts during the year by Bankers Life salesmen.

LOUIS F. CZUFIN of Sleepy Hollow, advertising and public relations manager for California Chemical Co., San Francisco, addressed the Newspaper Advertising Executives Assn. on retailing at its recent national convention in New Orleans.

GEORGE SKARICH of Greenbrae, who is with Bowerman's Pharmacy, Inc., San Francisco, is one of 22 pharmacists this year to be elected into fellowship in the American College of Apothecaries.

SMALL RUNNING LIGHTS that many automobile owners are adding to the front of their cars are illegal and should not be used, notes Capt. T. F. Parnow, commander of the California Highway Patrol's Marin-Golden Gate Bridge area.

Although they undoubtedly believe they are increasing traffic safety, because of the publicity about driving with headlights burning during the daytime as an accident preventative measure, Parnow acknowledged, the so-called "running lamps" are neither required nor permitted by the California Vehicle Code.

Market Closes Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today with the Dow Jones industrial average having crossed the 900 level for the first time in a trading session.

Dealings were active.

The market, buoyed by some good earnings reports, was having difficulty in clearing the "psychological barrier" of the Dow 900 line on a closing basis.

Volume for the day was estimated at about the same as yesterday's 5.78 million shares.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

Aerospace issues, utipities, electrical equipments and a scattering of selected blue chips kept the averages higher despite a decpine in airlines, sharp losses by some key rails and a generally lower tone among steels and autos.

A wide range of issues throughout the list posted sharp gains but most of these were not represented in the popular stock averages.

United Aircraft and Boeing recovered well over a point each. Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse Electric and American Cyanamid were up around a point.

Down a point or more were New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, Homestake and Zenith.

Construction Is Ready To Start On Novato McGraw-Hill Building

Construction is to commence immediately on a two and one-half million dollar office and warehouse facility of McGraw-Hill Book Co., near Novato, it was announced today by Harry P. Graves, vice president of the publishing firm.

Contract for the distribution center has been awarded to MacDonald, Young and Nelson, Inc. of Oakland, Graves said. The complex was designed by the architectural firm of John S. Bolles of San Francisco. It will be located on McGraw-Hill's 100-acre site north of Novato.

The warehouse is planned in two stages — a first stage of 136,000 square feet and an addition of 114,000 square feet. Behind the warehouse on a ledge cut into the hill will be a 38,000 square foot office building and cafeteria.

The complex will be set back 400 feet from Highway 101, with all parking at the rear of the warehouse.

The warehouse roof structure will be distinguished by a series of concrete shells. There will be large earth mounds in front of the warehouse and around the truck service areas designed to reinforce the existing forms of the hillsides.

Project design was done by Jan Lubicz-Nycz, designer of proposals for the Golden Gateway and Diamond Heights in San Francisco.

Safety System

DETROIT—The one and one-half millionth Rambler equipped with "double-safety" brakes is now on the road, American Motors reports. The Rambler system is of the type specified in the proposed federal safety standards published by the General Services Administration.

Plymouth Sales

DETROIT — Plymouth retail deliveries of 16,634 in the Jan. 11-20 selling period were up 84 per cent in unit volume over the same period last year. The figure is the highest for that period in 10 years.

Dividend Declared

SAN FRANCISCO—The board of directors of American Building Maintenance Industries has declared an initial quarterly dividend of five cents per share payable Feb. 12 to stockholders of record Jan. 29.

Redwood Takes Prep Cage Lead

San Rafael Bangs Drake From 1st Place Tie, 71-52

The Bulldogs stormed to a 71-52 victory over the Drake Pirates yesterday, knocking the hosts out of first place in the Marin Athletic League race and tying them for second place, just one game behind the front running Redwood Giants.

With guard Ken Erdman leading the way, the Bulldogs staged one of the league's greatest shooting performances by connecting on 25 of their 44 floor shots and 21 of 34 free throw attempts.

They were particularly hot in the second half, making 15 of 24 fielders for a torrid 67 per cent as they all but ran away and hid from the stunned Pirates.

It was reasonably close in the first half with San Rafael holding the edge, 25-20 at the intermission. But at the start of the second half the red-hot invaders reeled off 10 straight points in two minutes for a 35-20 spread from which Drake could never recover. Erdman, who wound up with 22 points, high for the game, hit 6 in that two-minute spree and 13 of San Rafael's 26 third quarter points.

Chet Carlisle hit 12 for the Pirates.

Redwood 'B' Cagers Hit For 1st Loss

Marin Catholic's Wildkittens, who were idle from the Marin Athletic League Class B basketball action yesterday, woke up in first place today without so much as bouncing a ball.

Thanks to a big assist from Tamalpais which knocked off Redwood, 52-39, the Wildkittens "backed" into a first place tie with Redwood, each with a 4-1 won-lost record. And Tam is threatening, too, with a 3-2 mark.

Tam's victory yesterday was the result of a well-balanced attack with Bill Woodward scoring 15 points and John Barrow and Joe Bibe each contributing 14. Game honors, however, went to Redwood's Andre Horn with 20.

Drake, winner in only one previous game, upset San Rafael 43-37 to tie San Rafael and Terra Linda for fourth place in the standings. Don Alvarado led Drake yesterday with 11 points, followed by Wayne Onizuka with 9 and Stacy Schaefer and Stu Clemons with 8 each. For San Rafael Richard Schau and Sam Cromwell each bucketed 10.

Terra Linda trounced Novato 39-18 as John Lake scored 10 points, led rebounders with 10 and played an all-around excellent game.

On the junior varsity front Tam, led by Charles Cook's 10 points, scored a 29-26 win over Redwood whose George Bertram tallied 17; Jerry Sprout with 17 points and Carl Stein and Richard Edelstein with 14 each led Drake to a 59-23 rout of San Rafael; and Terra Linda downed Novato 41-32 behind Brent Mitchell's 14 points and 12 by Jim Taylor.

In freshmen action Tom Seidenberg (12) and Barry Ott (9) led Redwood to a 39-32 win over Tam (John Dulebohn, 9); San Rafael edged Drake 40-35 and Terra Linda defeated Novato 34-25 with Mark Buckley scoring 10 for the winners.

Giants Trip Tam Indians 58-45 To Grab Top Spot

With dead eye Russ Smith holding the hot hand, Coach Dick Hart's Redwood Giants took sole possession of first place in the Marin Athletic League basketball scramble yesterday at Redwood with a 58-45 victory over the Tamalpais Indians.

In scoring their fourth victory in five league games and breaking the first place tie with Drake's Pirates who slipped to second, the Giants shot holes in Tam's reputation as the league's best defensive quintet. In four previous league appearances the Indians yielded an average of only 37 points a game.

Smith, a 6-foot junior guard who specializes in jump shots from around the key, made 9 buckets for 18 points and was ably assisted in the balanced Redwood scoring column by Tom Bly with 16 and Don Detrick with 14.

But game honors, however, went to Tam's Larry Gray who clicked off 26 markers on 12 buckets and 2 charities. He scored 18 points in the second half.

It was a tight one for the first quarter with Redwood looking like a defensive Giant on the strength of an 8-2 lead. But the boys loosened up after that and started finding the range.

Referees had little to do as few fouls were called, Tam making only 3 of 5 foul shots and Redwood 10 of 14.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Medics Remind Us That Sports Injury Conference Is Coming

The I-J sports department yesterday resembled Marin General Hospital annex, what with visits from Doctors Arnold Nutting of San Rafael and Carl Schlichtmann of Mill Valley and a call from Dr. Harry Hensler of San Anselmo.

It caused quite a commotion. Everybody ditched their cigarettes, thinking it was a raid. But the visits from our medical friends were purely social. They were reminding us that Saturday is the Marin Medical Society's Sports Injury Conference and asking us to remind you of same.

The conference is scheduled at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael and is open to the public. It will be of special interest to coaches, administrators, team doctors and trainers and parents. Which covers quite a bit of territory. Registration fee is $10 which includes doughnuts and coffee, lunch and dinner in addition to a ringside seat at the panel discussions throughout the day.

Topics will include New Developments in Safety Equipment," "Family, School, or Doctor: Who Is Responsible," "Condition In Relation To Injury Prevention" and "Emotional Problems of Athletes and Their Handling."

Registration is from 8 to 9 a.m., lunch at noon, and dinner at 6:30 p.m. Panels will start at 9 and 10:30 a.m., 2 and 3:30 p.m.

Main speakers will be a couple of "name" football figures—ex-Minnesota All-American and ex-49er end Gordy Soltau at the luncheon and Cal's heralded quarterback Craig Morton at the dinner sessions. Both are gifted speakers as Gordy is active in radio and TV work and Craig is a speech major at Berkeley.

THE OTHER day I mentioned the possibility of Tam alumnus Willie Hector returning to his alma mammy as head grid coach, stating that if so he would be the first Marin High School graduate to return in that capacity.

Well, I was daid wrong. The error was corrected in the form of a post card from Jim Hanretty, a former Tam grid coach who is well versed in Tam's athletic history. Gentleman Jim notes that Dick Miller graduated from Tam around 1941 and came back as head football coach in the mid-1950s.

Hanretty also points out Chuck Crawford, Tam '43, was later a varsity basketball coach and Bob Prather, who at one time coached Class B football and basketball at Mill Valley and is now principal, is also a Tam alum.

DICK MILLER

Thanks to Historian Hanretty for the correction.

BOB FRANCESCHINI, coach of Drake High's championship grid team, will be one of the featured speakers at the 11th annual Redwood Football Clinic March 6 at Redwood High.

According to the clinic's roster of speakers of the 10 previous years, Franceschini will be the first local prep coach honored with a featured role on the rostrum. His topic will be "Drake's Approach to Football."

Incidentally, this year's clinic will be dedicated to the memory of the late Joe Verducci, former coach and director of athletics at S.F. State.

Heavyweight Billy Walker KO's Powell

LONDON (UPI)— British heavyweight Billy Walker took less than two rounds last night to display "a better right hand" than Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson.

Charlie Powell of San Diego made the comparison after he was knocked out by Walker at 2:32 of the second round before a crowd of 5,500.

The 209-pound Powell summed up the fight: "My left arm went completely numb as we came out of the clinch in the second. He hit me a good right and that was that."

Powell, who has fought Patterson and Clay, added that the 196¾ pound Walker "has a better right hand than either of them."

"He really belted Charlie hard," Powell's manager, Joe Vella, said after the scheduled 10-rounder, "And I think this was Charlie's last fight. I feel he's had enough."

On the same program, Alan Rudkin of England won his 18th fight in 20 starts with a fifth round technical knockout of Jose Cejudo of Los Angeles.

Another Award For Morton

PALO ALTO, Calif. (UPI)— Craig Morton, star University of California quarterback last night was presented the Pop Warner Memorial Award as the most valuable senior college football player on the West Coast.

The award was presented to Morton by former Stanford grid great Ernie Nevers at the 19th annual Palo club awards banquet.

Terra Linda Basketballers Upset Novato Quint, 55-44

Turning in one of their better performances of the Marin Athletic League campaign, the Terra Linda Trojans yesterday upset the Novato Hornets 55-44, at Terra Linda's gym.

The Trojans used foul shooting as their main weapon to offset Novato's 16-15 edge in field goals. With Don Knotts hitting 10 of 11 charities, Terra Linda scored 25 points from the foul line in 35 attempts, including 19 of 27 in the second half.

Novato hit 16 of 46 fielders and Terra Linda was 15 for 46. The hosts took a 17-12 first quarter elad gut Novato, led by Tom Corder and John Dolinsek, rallied to tie it up at 22-all at half.

With Knotts leading the way from the foul line and Keith Shields from the floor, the Trojans forged to a 36-27 advantage in the third period and then foul shot their way to victory, connecting on 13 of 19 charities in the fourth stanza as the trailing Hornets pressed for ball possession and were whistled down.

Terra Linda Coach George Starn called it "one of our better league games" and praised 6-3 senior Kraig Kilby for his 14 rebounds; 6-1 junior John Ahern for outstanding defensive play; 5-10 senior Shields for his 17-point effort; Fred Daniele for a good floor game and four assists, and Knotts for his foul shooting and eight assists.

Corder wound up with 12 points and Dolinsek 10 for Novato.

Lucky International Will Start Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The $57,500 Lucky International golf tournament, favorite gold mining stop for foreign players during four previous years, opens Thursday on the well-dampened Harding Park municipal course.

And tremendous competition is expected to come from an American contingent led by British Open champion Tony Lema, Billy Casper, who has finished ninth or better in the last 17 consecutive tournaments; and PGA champion Bobby Nichols, who failed to make the cut in the Crosby.

However, this is a different course and different conditions can be expected. fair weather is forecast.

Among the top foreign stars competing will be Kel Nagle of Australia; former British Open champion Bob Charles of New Zealand, king of the left-handers; Tony Grubb of England; and Al Johnston, Al Balding, George Knudson and Stan Leonard of Canada.

The other two tournament winners this year, Paul Harney at Los Angeles, and Wes Ellis, at Dan Diego, are not competing here. Neither are money-winning king Jack Nicklaus, Masters champion Arnold Palmer and National Open champion Ken Venturi.

Venturi, a home-town boy, is off the tour until mid-March because of circulatory problems in the last two fingers of his right hand. He learned the game at Harding Park and it was a tough decision he had to make to refrain from playing.

In addition to Rodriguez winning last year, South African Gary Player captured the inaugural tournament. He is not on tour in the United States so far this season.

HOSPITAL RELEASES SWAFFAR

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Former Oklahoma State basketball star Bob Swaffar was out of the hospital today for the first time since his right arm was torn off last November, then re-attached.

Swaffar was discharged yesterday from University Hospital.

Swaffar underwent a six-hour operation in which two of the major nerves in his arm were re-aligned. Doctors said it would be at least a year before they know it the nerves are growing.

Swaffar's arm was twisted off last November in a laundry machine accident at the university. The arm was re-attached a few hours later.

Doctors said Swaffar can resume normal activities and said they were very pleased with his progress.

At Oklahoma State, he will be under the care of the director of the school's student hospital and clinic. He will return periodically for checkups with doctors in Oklahoma City.

U.S. Gals Win Net Matches

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Mrs. Carole Caldwell Graebner and Billie Jean Moffitt, ranking United States players, advanced to the semifinals today in the women's doubles at the Australian Tennis Championships.

Mrs. Graebner, of Beachwood, Ohio, teamed with Mrs. Pierre Darmon of France to defeat teen-agers Helen Gourlay of Tasmania and Kerr Melville of Victoryia 7-5, 6-3.

Miss Moffitt had even tougher going. The Long Beach, Calif., star, teaming with Robyn Ebbern of Australia, needed three sets to dispose of South Africa's Annette Van Zyl and Madonna Schact of Queensland 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Seals Host Vancouver Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The San Francisco Seals try to pick up the pieces tonight when they open a busy home stand at the Cow Palace against ancouver.

A playoff spot has never looked so far away for them, however. The Seals fell at Victoria, 6-3, last night in a game they needed to win. The loss kept the last-place Seals two points back of Los Angeles, while Victoria and fourth place are now eight big points away.

Dallas Smith got San Francisco on the scoreboard first at Victoria, but the Maple Leafs then rolled for four first period goals to decide the issue.

Ray Cyr and Charlie Burns also scored for the Seals. It was Burns' 26th goal of the year, one less than teammate and league-leader Wayne Connelly.

After tonight's game, 8:15, San Francisco entertains Los Angeles Friday and Vancouver Sunday.

Warriors Boost Sick Record To 17 Straight

The Cincinnati Royals helped the San Francisco Warriors set a dubious National Basketball Association record, added to it and hope to be of further assistance tomorrow night.

The Royals were the team that defeated San Francisco 124-103 in Cincinnati last Sunday for the Warriors' 16th straight loss, an NBA record.

The old mark was 15 losses set in 1949 by the Denver Nuggets, who went out of business before they could play another season.

The Warriors stayed in business, however, and lost to the Royals 115-1107 last night at the University of San Francisco gym.

The two teams meet again in the same pavilion Thursday because the Civic Auditorium home of the Warriors is tied up with a convention of canners.

Down 17 points in the third quarter Tuesday, San Francisco battled back behind Tom Meschery and Paul Neumann and cut the margin to 84-80 at the end of the period.

But the Royals had plenty left. They stretched out to a 103-88 lead with a little more than three minutes remaining and went on to win the game in which they were never behind.

Cincinnati's long-range gunner Adrian Smith was high scorer with 32 points. Teammates Oscar Robertson had 26 and Jerry Lucas 25.

Meschery led the warriors with 26 points. Nate Thurmond followed with 20 and Neumann canned 14.

Kind Words For Stuhldreher

PITTSBURGH (AP) — In the years to come when football is discussed, Harry Stuhldreher might not be remembered as a member of the National Football Hall of Fame but it's unlikely he will be forgotten as a member of Notre Dame's fabled Four Horsemen.

Stuhldreher, 63, the quarterback of the famed Fighting Irish backfield of 1922-24, died yesterday in West Penn Hospital here. He had been admitted Dec. 29 and had undergone surgery Jan. 14.

His friends and teammates have their memories too — not just of Stuhldreher as a football player but also as a person.

"We lost a great one," Elmer Layden, one of the Horsemen, said in Chicago.

"He has done so many great things for others through the years," Layden said, "he gave of himself — to his work, to young lads and to football and in many public appearances.

Don Miller of Cleveland, Stuhldreher's roommate and a member of the backfield, said Stuhldreher "was the greatest quarterback in the history of Notre Dame University . . . not only a great passer and blocker but also a great safety man on defense."

He "exemplified the real meaning of sportsmanship . . . an honor student, a great athlete, a gentleman and a warm friend," said Jim Crowley of Scranton, Pa., the fourth Horseman.

Adam Walsh, who centered the line known as the Seven Mules on the Four Horsemen teams and is now a U.S. Marshal in Maine, said "Words can't express the respect his teammates had for him as a person over and above that for his ability as a player."

Stuhldreher and his three mates got the name of the Four Horsemen — a biblical allusion to the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, war, famine, pestilence and death — from the late sports writer, Grantland Rice, in 1924.

Stuhldreher, a U.S. Steel Corp. executive, spent 33 years in football as a player, coach and executive until 1950.

Funeral services will be held in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Mrs. H. W. McCarley, 40-6—34; Mrs. T. Bervin, 41-7—34; Mrs. H. C. Miller, 42-8—34; Mrs. Berry Marsh, 40-5—35; Mrs. Charles Vincent, 40-5—35; Mrs. A. Edwards, 44-9—35; Mrs. James Agnew, 42-7—35; Mrs. Fred Snow, 46-11—35.

Gonzales Upsets Griffith

HOUSTON (AP) — Manuel Gonzalez, an underdog from Odessa, Tex., used an effective left jab to fashion a thin 10-round split decision over welterweight champion Emile Griffith of New York last night in a non-title over-the-weight bout.

Gonzalez, ranked third among the welterweights, weathered a furious stretch drive by Griffith and earned the verdict which could have gone either way.

Griffith weighed 149 and Gonzalez 150½.

Referee Jimmy Webb had Gonzalez ahead 97-94, judge Maxie Ross saw it 97-94 in favor of Griffith and judge Earl Keel voted for Gonzalez, 96-95. The Associated Press card had Griffith the victor, 97-96.

The world champion, losing only his sixth fight in 49 outings, was intent in finding a way to reach Gonzalez' midsection.

In the 10th Griffith went all out. The champ tagged his foe with several hard left hooks and Gonzalez appeared to be fighting mainly in self-defense.

"He never hurt me," Gonzalez said, "although I did feel some of those body punches."

Griffith felt he won the fight handily, as did his co-manager, Gil Clancy. "It was no contest as far as I was concerned," Clancy said.

"He's a cutie," Griffith said of Gonzalez. "He never hurt me. He threw a lot of jabs but I was never really in trouble."

N.Y. Giants Sign Star Ernie Koy

No one is more pleased about the transaction than Frank (Pop) Ivy, former Oiler head coach and now Southwest scout for the Giants.

"Pop handled it," said Wellington T. Mara, Giant vice president, yesterday. I came down to be blamed if we lost Ernie."

Terms of the one-year contract were not announced, but guesses went as high as $35,000.

Koy said the terms of the offers by the two teams were similar.

"If he got a one-year contract from them, then I don't think the offers were similar," said an Oiler spokesman, implying the Houston proposal was for several years.

Ivy was assigned four players in the Southwest and signed or received commitments from every one — Koy, North Texas State back Carl Lockhart, Oklahoma tackle Glen Condgren and Texas linebacker Olen Underwood.

Koy was asked why he chose a club which drafted him 11th in preference to one that took him in the third round.

"I can answer that," interrupted Ivy.

"Nobody in the NFL drafted him high because of Houston's reputation for spending money for players. A lot of teams are reluctant to take on the chore of competing with the Oilers for a Texas boy."

"Maybe Houston's reputation is beginning to slip," he said.

"The NFL is established and the Giants have been playing a long time," said Koy, explaining his decision. "Dad played baseball in New York and I've always had an inkling to get back there."

Japan's Battle Over Murakami Is Renewed

TOKYO (AP) — Masanori Murakami, the first Japanese to pitch for a major league baseball club in the United States, is under heavy pressure to remain in Japan and hurl for the Nankai Hawks of Osaka.

The Hawks, a top professional baseball club in western Japan, threatened today to block his departure to rejoin the San Francisco Giants unless there is a promise that he will be returned next year.

Sigeru Niiyama, general manager for the Hawks, told a newsman he was in full agreement with Manager Zakundo Tsuruoka that "Murakami is still the property of the Hawks and is only on loan to the Giants for 1965."

The Nankai Hawks interpret the $10,000 they received from the Giants as a "sort of bonus and not trade money," Niiyama said. But the Giants insist that Murakami is Giant property since they purchased his contract outright last November.

Niiyama admitted the Nankai club may have misinterpreted the deal but he emphasized that the Hawks "did not agree that Murakami will pitch for the Giants after the coming season."

Murakami, a 20-year-old southpaw, was sent to the Giants last year to learn baseball. After playing with Fresno, a Giant farm club, where he won 11 games and lost seven he was called up by San Francisco later in the season and pitched 15 innings in nine appearances, yielding only two runs. He struck out 15 and allowed only one base on balls, for a 1-0 record and a 1.80 earned run average.

"Unless there is an amicable solution," Niiyama said, "we cannot allow Murakami to join the San Francisco Giants" at their spring training camp in Arizona.

Tsuruoka's mission in San Francisco was to reach an understanding that Murakami still belonged to the Nankai Hawks.

"It is perfectly all right for Murakami to join the Giants this year if the Giants send him back to Japan at the end of the 1965 baseball season," Niiyama said.

"Under any circumstance," Niiyama said, "Murakami is not leaving for San Francisco unless he gets final permission from Mr. Tsuruoka."

Murakami, a 6-footer who earlier this month said he wanted to pitch for the Giants for "a long time," was unreachable for comment. He was originally scheduled to leave Japan by Feb. 1.

'Cooperation' Helped Cards Win Series

CINCINNATI (AP) — Great cooperation among National League clubs helped the St. Louis Cardinals win the 1964 World Series over the New York Yankees, League President Warren Giles said last night.

He prefaced his remarks by commenting that he believed any one of the three National League contenders on the final day — St. Louis, Cincinnati or Philadelphia — could have beaten the Yankees.

After St. Louis won the pennant, Giles said he called Johnny Keane to find out what kind of a "book" (scouting report) the Cards had on the Yankees. He said the St. Louis manager told him the Cardinals had not expected to win and had not done much pre-World Series scouting.

The Cardinals came up from third place in the last two weeks of the season while Philadelphia blew a six-game lead. Cincinnati then took over and started the final week one game ahead. The Reds also blew their lead.

Giles explained that he offered to try to get the book on the Yankees for the Cardinals. He said he called Bob Carpenter, head of the Phillies, who said he would be glad to turn over the Phils' "book" to the Cardinals. The "book" was then flown to St. Louis.

Giles described only one phase of the "book" — that it showed the Yankees' Mickey Mantle had trouble throwing when a ball was hit to his left because of his recurring leg injuries.

"It is that cooperation that makes the National League great," said Giles as he turned the party over to the movie projectionist.

Jim Clark Named Top Race Driver

ROME (AP) — The Italian automobile magazine Motor yesterday named Scotsman Jim Clark as the best racing car driver of 1964. Dan Gurney of Riverside, Calif. was second in the poll of sports writers from Europe and America.

Harrington Is Easy Winner

HONOLULU (AP) — Veteran Stan Harrington of Hawaii scored an easy 10-round decision over Carl Penalosa of Cebu, Philippines, last night.

Harrington weighed 149, Penalosa 141¾.

Fans booed the final three rounds. A crowd of 4,000 paid a gross gate of $9,796.

Free Exams For Boats Offered

Flotilla 14 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary of San Rafael, is offering free examinations of boats to help owners meet minimum safety requirements called for by law.

Among the basic requirements examined are lights, life preservers, fire extinguishers, bells and whistles. Boaters who can meet the basic requirements, plus other safety factors, can earn the Coast Guard's courtesy examination decal.

If the examination reveals any deficiency, they are not reported as violations, but are brought to the attention of the boat owner so he will have an opportunity to correct them, according to Charles Snyder, flotilla commander.

For further information, persons should get in touch with Snyder or Ken Black, an examiner.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Maury Wills Signs His New Dodger Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Shortstop Maury Wills, king of stolen bases in the National League, is among Los Angeles Dodgers who have signed their 1965 baseball contracts.

The Dodgers said that yesterday's mail also brought signed agreements from pitcher Joe Moeller and catcher Hector Valle.

Wills stole 53 bases last season. Since joining the Dodgers in the mid-season of 1959, he has stolen 289.

The latest signings leave only seven players outside the fold.

It was understood Wills will receive $50,000 for the season's work. This is the same salary he eaned last year.

Rookie Picked

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) —Mickey Rupp of Mansfield, Ohio, became the first rookie nominated for the 49th annual Indianapolis 500 yesterday. Rupp is sponsored by H. A. Chapman of Tucson, Ariz., and will drive a conventional roadster, which is the first car of its type to be entered this year.

Third Time May Be Charm For Giant Manager Herman Franks

HANLEY

Herman Franks has no illusions of what his No. 1 job will be when he leads the Giants into spring training camp next month. "I must get along with the players," said Franks.

Isn't that another way of stating the old cliche that "handling men" is the most important qualification of a manager?

"I never did like that expression," said Franks. "It sounds sort of superior. And there is something inferior about it, too. It makes a manager seem superior, players inferior.

"MAKE NO MISTAKE about it, players win ball games, not the manager. Players make the manager. It isn't the other way around."

Franks roared with laughter when it was suggested that he might be expelled from the managers union for making such an admission.

"Maybe I'll be forgiven," said Franks. "After all, I'm just a rookie at this job."

ALTHOUGH HE is a rookie at managing a major league club, Franks has been in baseball since 1932 when, as a 17-year-old high school catcher in Salt Lake City, he turned down an offer of a prepaid college education from the New York Yankees to take a $150 a month job as a rookie catcher with Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League.

After two years with Hollywood, Franks played in the St. Louis Cardinal chain from 1934 through 1938 at Omaha, Jacksonville, Houston and Sacramento. Franks and Johnny Keane, new manager of the Yankees, were teammates at Houston.

IN 1939-40, the Cardinals brought him up to the big time and then traded him in 1941 to the Dodgers. From 1942 through 1945 he was a first lieutenant in the Navy. In 1946 he played for Montreal, managed St. Paul in the American Association the following year, spent 1948 with the old Philadelphia Athletics and finally, in 1949, became a member of the Giant organization as a coach under Leo Durocher.

During his 1949-55 coaching period under Durocher, Franks also managed winter league clubs in the Caribbean where he first met Orlando Cepeda, then a budding star. Franks retired as a coach in 1956 to build a fortune of almost a million dollars in supermarkets and trailer homes in Salt Lake City. But he never completely could divorce himself from baseball. He returned to the Giants as a coach in 1957-58 and, after leaving the Giants a second time at the end of the 1958 season, purchased a substantial interest in the Salt Lake City club of the Coast League.

WHEN ALVIN DARK invited Franks back to the Giants as a coach last spring, Franks sold his interest in the Salt Lake club. So this is his third time back with the Giants.

"The third time might be the charm," said Franks.

Did he mean a possible pennant?

"Definitely," said Franks.

(Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda have known Franks many years and like him. But what about all of the other Giants?)

Names Captain

Teachers Get Ready For Basketball Tilt

Teachers and coaches from San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools will perform against one-another Feb. 6 when the annual faculty game between the two schools is held in the Terra Linda gym, 8 o'clock.

Terra Linda will be defending the championship from last year, but its big scorer of 1964, Bill Purcell, will not be in the lineup this time. He has since left Terra Linda to teach in South San Francisco.

Giving their "all" for the San Rafael faculty team will be Angelo Colombo, Mike Diaz, Bill Monti, Ed Cunningham, Jack Sims, Fred Clausen, Larry Lack, Gay Quandt, Al Thomson and Milt Hain.

Members of the faculty will also provide comedy to the game as yell leaders. A capacity house is expected to be on hand to cheer the teachers on to victory.

Tickets are being sold at both schools and also will be available at the door. Proceeds of the game will go to the schools athletic and student body funds.

Benefit Cage Game Slated In Novato

Top-flight basketball will be offered in the Novato High School gymnasium Friday (Jan. 29) night when the San Francisco Olympic Club team takes on the Presidio Army All-Stars.

It will be a benefit game sponsored by the Novato Hornet Booster Club, with proceeds going toward athletic equipment for the high school's program. Game time is scheduled for 8 p.m., following a 7 o'clock preliminary game between the Novato High faculty and the school's alumni team.

Tickets, priced at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students and children, are being sold by Novato High School athletes, and also will be sold at the door.

Rugby Action Set Saturday

The undefeated Peacock Gap team, which tied the Peninsula Ramblers 8-8 last Saturday and downed University of Santa Clara 37-3 the previous week, will take on Stanford University in Saturday's feature game at 1:30 p.m.

The second game, between the University Club of Berkeley and the Stanford junior varsity, will follow the key battle at 3 p.m. Both games are free to the public.

Leading the Stanford team is grid star Dick Ragsdale.

Giant Tom Haller Will Receive The Good Guy Award

San Francisco Giants catcher Tom Haller, University of Illinois football quarterback who developed into one of the top National League catchers, has been named to receive the Good Guy Award during the second annual San Francisco Baseball Banquet Feb. 14.

The 27-year-old Haller joins other diamond figures who will be feted during the evening affair in the Peacock Court of the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco. Previously announced by the sponsoring San Francisco Chapter of the Baseball Writers of America to be honored are Boston Red Sox shortstop Eddie Bressoud as comeback player of the year and Frank (Lefty) O'Doul for his service to baseball over a period of years as manager and player.

A portion of the proceeds are to be given to cancer research in memory of the late Fred Hutchinson who managed the Cincinnati Reds. Tickets, priced at $15 each, may be obtained through the San Francisco Baseball Writers in care of Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

In being named for the Good Guy Award, Haller was cited for the time he gives assisting charitable and youth organizations.

81 Strep Infections In Marin

Streptococci infections again led the list of communicable diseases in Marin, continuing a condition that has prevailed since early in January.

The Marin County Health Department received reports of 81 cases last week with 39 in Novato. There were 82 the previous week.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, declared that the high incidence of streptococci is to be expected during the winter.

There was one case of viral encephalitis reported in Larkspur and a case of tuberculosis reported in Mill Valley last week.

There were 25 cases of measles reported and 11 cases of mumps.

Point Reyes Oyster Area Swap Hearing Schedule

Public hearing on an exchange of oyster allotment areas in Drakes Estero and Limontour Bay between the National Park Service and Johnson Oyster Co. of Point Reyes will be held at 10 a.m. Feb. 3 in the Lion's Club community hall, Point Reyes Station.

"We'll be losing about 20 acres of allotment in the trade, but we plan to plant about eight million baby oysters in our present allotment and the new area in Drakes Estero this spring," Charles Johnson, owner of the oyster company, said.

Fred Binnewies, superintendent of the Point Reyes National Seashore, said today the oyster company had, through agreement with the park service, requested an oyster allotment in 170 acres of Drakes Estero, off Drakes Bay.

In exchange, the company would release its control of a 189-acre allotment in Limantour Bay in the Point Reyes National Seashore which will soon come under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service, Binnewies said.

Although the area in Drakes Estero is designated as a public clamming area, its use by the Johnson Oyster Co. for oyster raising will not interfere with the clam resources or public clamming, he said.

Dixie School Board Due Staff Discussion

The Dixie School District board will consider staff increases for the 1965-66 school year at a meeting at 8 p.m. today at the district office, 35 Trellis Drive, San Rafael.

The possible staff increases include the addition of a psychologist, an additional school nurse, an additional foreign language teacher and additional part-time services in speech therapy and music.

Road Extension To Be Panel Topic

The proposed extension of Wolfe Grade to Bon Air Road in Kentfield will be discussed on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

David Van Pelt of the Marin County Planning Department; William S. J. Van Erp, president of the Kentfield Civic League; Mrs. John Morse, member of the civic league, and F. Bourne Hayne, director of the league, will be guests of moderator Kitty Oppenheimer.

Listeners may telephone questions to the speakers during the program, which will be rebroadcast from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Cancer Drive Goal Set At $38,000

Marin County's fund raising goal for the 1965 Cancer Crusade will be $38,050.

This was announced today by Dr. William A. Galeno of San Rafael, president of the branch. It compares to $38,461 raised here in 1964.

"With good organization already under way, we expect to surpass our goal," Dr. Galeno said.

"We are working against an urgent and unlimited need. Last year $1,600,000 in research applications could not be granted by the American Cancer Society because of inadequate funds.

"On the local level, too, we must raise the level of services to cancer patients and expand our life-saving programs of public and professional education."

Dr. Galeno said that the society's fund raising drive, held each year in April, will again be combined with a large-scale educational campaign.

"It is possible to save many lives through simple programs of public education alone," he said. "Many more cancers can be cured if detected and treated in time. Unfortunately, not everyone knows how to recognize cancer's early warning signs, and too many patients still are getting to their doctors too late."

Marin Plant Life To Be Class Topic

A non-credit evening course in "Plant Life of Marin County" will be taught at the College of Marin starting Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in room 32, Austin Science Building, on the Kentfield campus.

Alfonzo Molina will be teacher. The course will include field trips.

Land Of Oz Theme For Junior Prom

Complete with Dorothy, Toto, and the Cowardly Lion, the Redwood High School gymnasium may be transformed into the Land of Oz for the school's Junior Prom on April 24.

Sue Vanderhoof of Ross is prom committee chairman. Committee heads are Patricia Myers of Kentfield, decorations; Pete Newton of Kentfield, publicity; Penny McKee of Corte Madera, entertainment; John Compton of Kentfield, bids, and Carolyn Brockbank of Kentfield, refreshments.

CHOCOLATE GOONEYS

Sale Mints Make Six Dessert Treats

Doorbells will start ringing Friday when Camp Fire Girls all over Marin start their annual mint candy sale.

More than 2000 registered Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, Junior High and Horizon club members will be traveling in pairs as they start out in their own neighborhoods. The girls will be doing their bit toward helping the local council raise money to supplement the amount alloted by the United Crusade.

"MAGIC MINTS" is the theme for the 1965 sales headed by Mrs. Roscoe Smith of San Anselmo. District chairmen assisting her are: Southern Marin, Mesdames Donald Nichols, E. V. Hamilton, Richard Nelson, J. C. Weir; Redwood; Llewellyn Crandall, Robert Goether, Pierce Hawk, Howard Mibach, Fred Hafer; San Rafael; David Burt, Arthur Ablin, F. G. Farr, Ted Ponseti, Robert Powell, Donn Nissen; Novato; Jack Mitchell, Sally Burnam and Jefferson Childs.

FUNDS EARNED from the sale of the chocolate-covered mints help each girl swell the treasury of her own group and each box sold brings a percentage to the Marin Council. Last year the girls sold 4,185 boxes. With a goal of 20 boxes per girl, the total may even be greater this year.

The sale will continue through Feb. 28. The candy can be stored in a freezer or a cool place, and home makers will see the brand new recipes tested by Camp Fire mothers.

DELICIOUS, Easy-to-do mint tricks—

CAKE IDEAS — Bake your favorite chocolate or plain cake and place Camp Fire Mints on top of each layer when taken from the oven. When cool, put together as usual and frost with chocolate frosting. Press Camp Fire Mints into the top of a pound cake fresh from the oven. Mints melt right into the cake. Thoroughly mash and blend eight Camp Fire Mints which have been at room temperature. Add to commercial cake mix and proceed as directed on package.

MINT SUPREME

1 package Lemon Pie Mix

Follow directions in package, except use 2 whole eggs instead of 2 egg yolks. When cooked, add 2 cups cooked rice. Heat until mixture and rice are hot. Add 10 Camp Fire mints that have been cut into quarters; stir to blend. Pour into sherbert glasses, chill. Top with whipped cream. Serves 8.

CARAMEL KERNEL SURPRISE

Prepare caramels as directed on package for popcorn balls. Add 6 milk chocolate Camp Fire mints per cup of caramel mixture. Mix until smooth. Combine with popcorn and form into balls or spread on wax paper for caramel corn kernels.

BLUE BIRD DELIGHT

(So named because they are so simple that Blue Birds (young Camp Fire Girls) delight to make them.)

Melt together in top of double boiler:

- 3 oz. milk chocolate
- 18 Camp Fire mints
- 1 tablespoon milk

Have ready and mix together:

- 2 cups corn flakes
- 18 marshmallows

When chocolate and mints are melted, pour over corn flake mixture and stir until all is coated with chocolate. Drop by small amounts on wax paper. Let stand until cool, or place in refrigerator to hurry hardening.

REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

- ¾ cup sugar
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 cups sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 oz. semi-sweet chocolate
- 18 to 24 Camp Fire mints
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Melt chocolate and mints over warm water. Cream butter and sugar, add eggs and vanilla and chocolate mixture. Sift flour, salt and soda together, and stir into egg mixture. Add nuts and mix well. Chill dough and shape into long rolls, or as you desire, to mold refrigerator cookies. Slice and place on slightly greased baking sheet. Bake 12 to 15 minutes at 350 degrees.

CHOCOLATE-MINT GOONEYS

- 20 Camp Fire chocolate mint wafers
- 2 egg whites
- ¼ cup sugar plus 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup coconut
- 4 cups corn flakes
- ½ cup chopped nuts

Melt chocolate Camp Fire mints over hot water. Beat the egg whites until almost stiff; add sugar and salt gradually, until whites stand in stiff peaks. Add corn flakes, coconut and nuts to the chocolate mixture, then beat in the egg white mix. Blend. Drop small amounts on well-greased cookie sheet and bake for 10 minutes at 325 degrees. Let cool 10 minutes before removing from sheet. Makes about 3 dozen. These keep well.

CAMP FIRE SUGAR COOKIES

- 1 cup shortening (softened Margarine or other high-grade shortening
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon lemon extract
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs unbeaten
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon soda
- 1 to ½ tablespoon milk
- Camp Fire mints for topping

Combine first 6 ingredients and beat until smooth. Sift the flour, baking powder and soda and add to above mixture and blend. Add milk and mix well. Measure out 1 teaspoon of dough for each cookie. Place on aluminum cookie sheet and flatten each by pressing down with a flat-bottomed glass covered with a damp cloth. If nut cookies are desired, add about 1 cup of chopped nuts at the last and proceed in same manner. Bake 8 or 10 minutes at 375 degrees.

For mint frosting for these: When cookies are already to remove from the oven, place a mint on top of each. Slip back into oven just long enough to start melting. Slightly press on top two toasted almond halves.

BON BON DELIGHTS

1. Chill the mint, slice flatwise with a sharp knife, spread ground raisins, dates or figs on one side and place other half over it.

2. Place between two toasted walnut halves a "slightly melted mint."

3. Small patties are made by cutting marshmallows into 8 pieces. Mix with toasted pecans, then mix with mints melted just enough to handle. Stir and make into small patties. Chill.

GRAHAM CRACKER SANDWICHES

Place in oven pre-heated to 200 degrees, crackers with a mint on each. After 1 minute, take out and place another cracker on top of each, press down, and if soft enough to press together, remove from oven. If not quite soft enough, return to oven for a second or two longer —but watch carefully.

MINT PUDDING — Prepare chocolate packaged pudding as directed. While hot add three Camp Fire Mints. Stir until melted and thoroughly blended.

Ice Cream Ideas—Melt six or eight Camp Fire Mints in the top of a double boiler, add to milk and stir until smooth. Pour over vanilla ice cream. To one pint of vanilla ice cream add ½ cup chopped Camp Fire Mints. Serve with topping of toasted nuts.

ALL SMILES as they make a batch of Camp Fire mint cookies are members of the Wan Da Ti Ki group who attend Wade Thomas School in San Anselmo. The girls are among 2,000 Camp Fire Girls who will be ringing doorbells all over Marin on Friday, opening day for the annual sale. From left are Cinde Miller, Vicki McVey, Susan Davis, Mary Carroll and Cindy Keyes. Mrs. Roscoe Smith of San Anselmo is chairman of the sale. (Independent-Journal photo)

Make Coffee Cake In Your Blender

Wonders never cease—at least for the American cook. Our inventors keep busy inventing new kitchen appliances or updating the old.

Here's one of the latest updatings — an electric blender with a self-timing device. We tested the following recipe for a Viennese-type coffee cake in it and found it worked like a dream. However, if you haven't one of these new blenders, don't hesitate to try the recipe in an older model and do the timing yourself.

BLENDER COFFEE CAKE

- ¾ cup milk
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 envelope active dry yeast
- ½ cup warm water
- 4 eggs
- 4 cups flour
- Grated rind of 1 lemon
- 1 cup raisins, rinsed in hot water and drained
- ¼ cup blanched almonds

Scald milk; remove from heat; stir in butter, sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Into the container of an electric blender, put the warm water and yeast; cover and blend in high speed for 30 seconds. Add the lukewarm milk mixture, eggs and 2 cups of the flour. Cover and blend on high speed for 15 seconds; stop to stir down; cover and blend for 15 seconds more. In a mixing bowl, stir together the remaining 2 cups flour, the grated lemon rind and raisins. Pour the yeast mixture (in the blender container) over the flour mixture, beat until thoroughly combined. Arrange the almonds over the bottom of a greased 8-cup fluted tube pan. Spoon in the yeast batter, taking care not to disturb the almonds. Cover and let rise in a warm place (about 80 degrees) until double in bulk —about 1½ hours. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) over for 30 to 40 minutes. Turn out on a wire rack; cool.

Seafood Casserole Favorite

"Cape Cod Turkey" is not turkey at all, but fish—in the vernacular of New England, that is. Although the term used to mean salt codfish, it now refers to any cooked fish dish,. Of course, the cod does enjoy a unique place in the history and culinary traditions of New England. But today, lobsters, clams, oysters, scallops and all the members of the ocean tribe are equally at home. Seafood combinations baked "en casserole" with a creamy sauce are a favorite on cold northern nights. This medley of scallops, lobster, fish fillets and shrimp is a particular favorite, according to the National Fisheries Institute.

NEW ENGLAND SCALLOPED FISH

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ½ pound mushrooms, sliced
- ¾ cup flour
- 2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon paprika
- ¾ pound fish fillets (haddock, cod, flounder, sole or ocean perch)
- 1 pound cooked scallops
- 1 pound cooked and cleaned shrimp
- 1 small cooked lobster, or 1 small can lobster meat

Melt butter or margarine, add mushrooms and saute until lightly browned. Remove mushrooms and blend in flour. Gradually add milk and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Add seasonings and cook gently for 2 minutes. Cut fish fillets into bite-size pieces. Add to sauce along with other seafoods and sauteed mushrooms. Turn mixture into greased individual casseroles and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 to 20 minutes, or until mixture bubbles on top. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Taste Appeal Accents Beef Short Ribs

Few meat cuts have more savory, old-fashioned appeal than beef short ribs.

They can be varied to serve in many ways, with vegetables, dried fruits, barbecued or spiced. One seasonal variation certain to please is to serve the beef short ribs with sauerkraut.

Short ribs are cut from the ends of the ribs and they contain a section of flat rib bone and alternating layers of lean and fat.

To develop their flavor fully, brown the beef short ribs first. Then, simply add salt, pepper and a small amount of water and cook them, well covered. Sauerkraut is added for only long enough to heat through.

Build an attractive menu around the beef short ribs by serving creamed mixed vegetables, salt sticks, frozen fruit salad and brownies.

BEEF SHORT RIBS WITH SAUERKRAUT

- 3 pounds beef short ribs
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings, if necessary
- 1½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup water
- 1 can (1 pound, 11 ounces) sauerkraut

Brown short ribs slowly on all sides in own fat or lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add water, cover tightly and cook in a slow oven (300° F.) or simmer on top of range until tender 1½ to 2 hours or until meat is tender.

Secret Arrest Law Might Damage Personal Freedom

A bill has been introduced in the State Legislature to keep police arrests secret from the public.

The measure, by Assemblyman Tom C. Carrell, D-San Fernando, proposes non-disclosure of records of arrests and of incidental detention and confinement, on the request of the arrested person.

Laws like these, which attempt to chip away at the public's right to scrutinize official records and actions, are tossed into the legislative hopper almost every session.

In the face of an alert public, they can get nowhere. But without constant vigilance, these bills can work their way into the books and eventually jeopardize the principle of free speech and press.

We object to the Carrell measure on at least two major grounds. One is that it negates the principles of free speech and press. The second, and even more important, is that this and similar measures could pave the way for a secret police state.

Under the bill, every person arrested could demand that no publicity be given to his arrest.

Now, such a law would be welcome to the lawbreaker. Just two little words, "No publicity!" and he is immune from the press and from public scrutiny. Almost every lawbreaker would take advantage of this law. By common practice, the police blotter can become a closed book.

Now let's look at the other side of the ledger. Supposing a man is passed out on the street corner, either from liquor or from diabetic shock. He can be thrown into the county "drunk tank" and left there for days without any of his relatives knowing of his whereabouts.

Supposing that an inmate dies in the jail. If his booking record, showing date of admittance and release, is a closed secret, what is to prevent an unscrupulous jailer from dumping the body elsewhere to keep the jail's record spotless?

Or supposing an officer has a grudge against another citizen and wants to harrass him. If the common practice is not to disclose bookings, what's to prevent the officer from holding a private citizen incommunicado for hours or days on the pretext that the man, "being questioned for possible crimes," does not want publicity.

After your rights have been denied, and you've been mistreated or manhandled by the "secret" police, your only chance of redress would be your word (that you wanted your arrest made public) against his.

We believe any effort to clamp a lid of secrecy over arrest records is fraught with dangers. The rare instances of embarrassment suffered by an innocent person unjustly arrested is no justification for closing the police blotter and risking the dangers of a police state.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Republican Party Must Admit Its Own Blame For Disaster

GEN. DWIGHT D. Eisenhower blamed the "powerful publicity" of the "entrenched Democrats" for distorting the Republican image.

Retiring Chairman Dean Burch blames the press.

Sen. Barry M. Goldwater blames the Republican leaders who did not support Senator Goldwater.

Most of the GOP politicians are peering down a dead-end street for a scapegoat who isn't there.

They will find the real culprit only when they are willing to look into the mirror.

IT WAS THE REPUBLICAN Party that distorted the image of the Republican Party in 1964. It was not the Democrats or the press or the dissident moderates who did it.

It was not the Democrats who drove the Negroes out of the Republican Party.

It was not the press that drove the businessmen out of the Republican camp.

It was not the dissident moderates who drove the farmers and the young people and the suburbanites away from the Goldwater-Miller ticket.

ONLY WHEN the Republican leaders admit to themselves who distorted their image can they effectively begin to correct it and put themselves back on the road to recovery. In all the areas where the Republican Party has been strongest in every election since the end of World War II, Goldwater lost disastrously.

This fact has to be seen and accepted before the Republicans will have any chance of repairing the havoc of last fall.

It is hardly possible to overstate the extent to which the San Francisco convention and the campaign distorted and smeared the Republican voting record of the past quarter century.

In his recent Saturday Evening Post article, General Eisenhower says he gets annoyed "when unthinking partisans accuse the Republican Party of 'me-tooism' simply because the party proposes solutions to some pressing human problems with which the Democrats also are concerned."

But it was the premise of the San Francisco convention that "me-tooism" must go, that the voters must be given a black and white choice. And it was Senator Goldwater, not the press or the "entrenched Democrats," who called the Eisenhower administration "a dime-store New Deal."

General Eisenhower says that the GOP has always stood against "extremist and racist" ideology, and that, as the party of Abraham Lincoln, it has stood for equal rights for Negroes. Yes, but not in 1964. It rejected platform amendments to reject extremism, chose a nominee who voted against the civil rights law (although the Republican congressmen voted overwhelmingly for it), and ran a campaign to appeal to racist voters.

IT MISSES the point completely to blame Senator Goldwater. He was true to himself in the campaign, and he was true to the man the convention nominated. All of this means that the Republicans can never locate the image-distorter until they look in the mirror and see what they did to themselves in 1964—and act accordingly.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Brown's Budget Lacks Ideas For Reducing State Spending

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's plans for financing the state during the next fiscal year, and a pattern for the hereafter, leaves much to be desired, primarily in the matter of decisions and direction.

IN FACT, in his budget message to the Legislature, it is not only difficult but downright impossible to detect a financing plan that is without ifs, ands and buts.

The governor says he has submitted a "bare - bones" budget to the Legislature. This amounts to the astronomical figure of 4.2 billion dollars. And on top of that, the governor suggests to the Legislature the expenditure of another 125 million dollars, provided the Legislature takes one of his six recommendations or methods of its own to raise the money.

Outstanding in the budget message is the lack of recommendation for reducing state expenditures.

WHILE ONLY a few affected people will quarrel with his suggestions on cutting down (a drop of water is better than no water at all to a taxpayer dying of thirst), his suggested savings of about 6 million dollars are no more than a drop in the bucket to the 4 billion dollars and more he proposes to spend.

The governor proposes to finance the 121-million-dollar increase over the estimates for last year from revenue out of a five-cent increase on a package of cigarettes. This would bring the tax to eight cents a package, one of the highest rates in the nation. It would mean for a great many retail sources an increase of 10 cents a package to the consumer.

JUST WHY cigarette smokers should be burdened with footing the bill for the governor's spending program is a good question, any more than ordinary food and commodities which are subject to the state sales tax. In other words, the cigarette tax applies to a special class and can be avoided if people stop smoking. The sales tax applies in varying degree to everyone, as all must eat and all must buy various commodities.

However, labor interests are opposed to any increase in the sales tax, so in currying the support of labor groups, the governor puts the burden on a special class of people, those who smoke.

However, the concern of the taxpayer may be minute this year, in lieu of what is ahead.

"THE NECESSARY tax increases for 1965-66," said the governor, "will be only a fourth of the tax increases that will be needed for 1966-67, when both the surplus (56 million dollars) and reserves (78.6 million dollars) will be gone and unavailable to help carry the burden."

Thus, if the state is faced with the prospect of raising 125 million dollars this year, according to the governor's figuring, the additional tab next year will amount to 500 million, or half a billion dollars.

Other methods the governor has suggested for extracting funds from the public include the withholding tax for state income taxes, once repudiated by the Legislature, increases in the income tax, and various other means of lightening the pocketbook in this gigantic give-away program. Probably by next year, he will need them all to balance his budget, if the taxpayers aren't bankrupt by that time.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Story On Scouts Given High Praise

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your newspaper has produced and published one of the finest Saturday magazine articles I have ever read on Saturday, Jan. 16, when you gave the story of the Marin Council Boy Scouts of America.

Not only was the narrative excellently done but the photographs lent great interest to the article. The story is a good one and I feel sure that your readers will have been very much interested in this item.

Not only do I congratulate you on this job but I also wish to express my appreciation as a member of the Scout organization in Marin for the benefits which we will undoubtedly receive from this excellent article.

West Marin Area Losers Criticized

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mrs. Renick's letter in last night's paper criticizing Mr. Storer is so obviously based on her hostility to Synanon that I would like to say that many people in Marin County . . . would be glad to help . . . an organization . . . to help people who have fallen into the hell of drug addiction, and hope that their elected representatives . . . will do all that they can to cooperate.

Why Mrs. Renick singled out Mr. Storer for attack . . . when he was only one of four supervisors who voted for resignation of various commissioners, can only be explained by her objection to Synanon, but if Mr. Storer ever made a "promise" to "get rid of Hankins" I can only say that I never heard of it, and I supported Mr. Storer for election. If he did . . . news of it would have been very favorably received by a good many people. . . .

We have suffered so much from false petitions and other . . . "popular support" which were complete fabrications that we lift a very skeptical and cynical eyebrow at the news that "tremendous petitions" are being prepared to keep Mr. Hankins on the Planning Commission. . . .

Under the circumstances, I can only state that any petition submitted on behalf of Mr. Hankins should be carefully checked, to be sure that the signatures themselves are bona fide and that the signers are not actuated by special interest beyond ordinary limits.

Most people are fair-minded . . . and resent the refusal of defeated candidates to accept the results of an election; this sense of justice has made many people very resentful of the unnecessary haste with which the outgoing Board adopted a very poor redistricting plan. . . . The . . . commotion over the request for mass resignations has reflected badly on the people who have made objections, particularly when the commissioners who had done a good job . . . were the very ones who agreed with the Board majority. We hope that they will be reappointed, but in any case we hope that a selfish minority, unwilling to accept the results of an election or of a majority vote of the Board of Supervisors, will not be allowed to take up time which should be devoted to dealing with the proper business of the Board.

Anti-Smoking Plan Told For Marinites

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Interagency Committee on Smoking and Health fully realizes the enormous challenge you so strikingly sketched in your Editor's Notebook: To change cigarette smoking from an "in" to an "out" activity.

Even though we are able to pool all the school, health, and medical groups concerned with smoking in Marin, we know that this maximum support must be exerted for a minimum of 10 years in order to turn the tide.

Our current labors are primarily engaged with the sources of new smokers—the boys and girls from 10 to 16. We have in the last three years already exposed one-third of Marin school children to talks, films, discussions, and projects. As expected, we have not received the sincere support of parents or adult groups. Nevertheless, we project an unflagging struggle with these fortresses of resistance.

Eventually we hope to weaken the mass seductions practiced by advertising, social and psychological forces by meeting them with their own weapons as we already have begun to do in our films and talks. The accomplishment of 8 per cent fewer smokers in one year is promising of the kind of guerrilla victories we think will continue. Knowing someone who has successfully spurned cigarettes will become a common occurrence. One thing is certain: Our triumphs will not be recorded in your obituary column.

Hub's 'Balk Plan' Beats Corte Madera

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. McLorg was wrong about Corte Madera Council providing Balk Plan No. 1. Last year the San Anselmo Council slowed traffic on San Francisco Boulevard, which is not a through street and has no through streets crossing it. They put up eleven stop signs in two blocks. Eleven! Count 'em.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

President Optimistic About 'Great Society'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—It could be due to the heady hoopla of the biggest and most costly inauguration in history, but President Lyndon B. Johnson is painting a glowing picture of the prospects of his wide-ranging "great society" legislative program.

EXUBERANTLY and confidently, he is telling the army of Democratic governors, mayors, national committeemen and assorted other party leaders who swarmed into the capital that smooth sailing is definitely ahead for his numerous multi - billion - dollar proposals—with two exceptions.

The doubtfuls are his immigration bill, extensively revising the decades-old national quota system, and the measure to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, empowering the states to enact right-to work laws.

The president is admitting these two proposals face powerful opposition and their fate is extremely uncertain. But regarding his other "great society" projects, he is cockily bullish that Congress will vote them without undue delay. The "sure thing" list he reels off consists of the following:

A multi-billion-dollar medicare plan under Social Security; a billion dollars in Appalachia aid; a billion for accelerated public works; 1.2 billion dollars educational aid for impoverished areas; 3.38 billion for foreign economic and military aid, as well as water pollution control and establishment of a Department of Housing.

One reason for this airy positiveness is a backstage plan to "pack" two key House subcommittees which will handle several of the most controversial measures—foreign aid and immigration.

A FELLOW TEXAN, Rep. George Mahon, head of the influential appropriations committee, is seeing to it that two Democrats favorable to the president's multi-billion-dollar foreign aid budget are added to the appropriations subcommittee in charge of this legislation, to block Rep. Otto Passman (D-La.), chairman, from drastically slashing foreign aid as he has done for years.

But the story is far less promising on the controversial immigration bill.

Like Mahon, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.), chairman of the judiciary committee, is set to "pack" the subcommittee on immigration, headed by Rep. Michael Feighan, (D.-Ohio).

Feighan, no rubber stamp, is not against modifying the national quota system. But he is vigorously insistent on adequate safeguards to bar the entry of subversives, criminals and tens of thousands of unscreened refugees now living in Algeria and behind the Iron Curtain.

Also strongly challenged by Feighan is the shifting of authority over immigration policy from Congress to the Executive branch. The Ohioan's view is that this is an unacceptable change.

With 22 states having right-to-work laws, the opponents of the president's bill to repeal Section 14(b) have a hard core of some 40 per cent against it in Congress. This is deemed a hefty roadblock to the president's measure.

IN ADDITION, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N. Y.), head of the House Labor Committee, has served notice on AFL-CIO leaders that he will stall the proposal until segregation is ended in all unions. He wants positive guarantees on that before releasing the bill.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Game Warden Al Giddings said cold weather was driving deer down from the hills.

Novato's school board voted to abandon the Grant School, ruled unsafe for children and abandoned as a classroom structure in June, 1953. Two rooms have been used for administration and storage.

20 YEARS AGO

A Child Care Center costing just under $10,000 was being built in Marin City with funds appropriated by the Federal Works Agency.

The Marin Planning Commission announced it had divided the county into four sections to study "people and jobs" in their future aspects.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

EVELYN WAUGH, famous British author, attributes his first name, almost always reserved for members of the feminine sex, to a whim of his mother's. And it's caused him occasional moments of acute embarrassment, too. Once, for instance, according to his autobiography, "A Little Learning," he recalls a day during the Italian - Ethiopian War, when he was ordered to a post many miles removed from any white woman. The Italian officers received advance word that "Evelyn Waugh, English writer, was on his way. So when he arrived, the entire corps of officers, shaven and polished, was waiting to greet him, each one bearing a bouquet of flowers. The resultant letdown in morale, admitted one rueful Italian, was greater than one caused by a defeat in the field.

In 1954, a distinguished band leader signed with a publisher to write his autobiography, tentatively entitled "My Thirty Years in Show Business." The publisher neither saw nor heard from him until they met at a Broadway restaurant by accident last month. "How's that book of yours getting along?" the publisher demanded petulantly. "Well," admitted the band leader, "I've changed the title. Now it's called 'My Forty Years in Show Business'."

AN IMAGINATIVE youngster was presented with a cat for his birthday and named it Christopher. Asked why, he explained, "The cat's mother always wanted a boy."

Alphabet Must Influence Votes For San Rafael School Officials

DID YOU EVER notice how the hierarchy of the alphabet rules in the election of members to the San Rafael Board of Education?

The ready explanation is that candidates are listed in alphabetical order on the ballot, but look at some of the other school boards in the county.

Other boards have alphabetical ballots, too, but they are not top-heavy with A and B trustees. In fact, there's a Zimmer in Sausalito and a Zanardi in Tomales, serving as trustees.

"4. Deduct the total pounds of solids-not-fat from the total pounds of skim milk component received from producers.

"5. Divide the result of b. 3. by the result of b. 4. The result (rounded and expressed to the fifth decimal place) shall be the minimum price per pound of fluid."

Seems like it would be simpler to feed the skim milk to the chickens.

Incidentally, all this is not expected to have any change on the retail price of milk. It might do something drastic to mathematics, however.

THE RESIGNATIONS requested by the Marin County Board of Supervisors of all members of three county commissions, recalls the famous Alphonso (Blinker) Murphy, who worked as a reporter on the San Francisco Examiner.

"I refuse to be fired," Murphy replied.

William Randolph Hearst Sr. had to be called out of his office to arbitrate. The Chief told his editor that there was not much that could be done with Murphy taking that attitude.

You notice that the system did not work with the board of supervisors. Times have changed.

ART BUCHWALD

Inaugural Invitee Suffers Plenty Of Expenses, Troubles In Capital

WASHINGTON — The inauguration was over and people were checking out of the hotel. I wandered into the bar and saw a man sitting at the bar staring into his glass.

HE TURNED TO ME and said, "You know, I didn't even want to come to the inauguration. You can ask my wife if you don't believe me."

"I believe you," I said.

"When the invitation came, I said, 'Let's send regrets.' But my wife said, 'Not on your life. You worked hard to get Johnson elected and you should go.'"

"What did you do to get Johnson elected?" I asked him.

"I gave the Democratic Party $1,000 for his campaign. What do you think I did?"

"You made a great contribution," I said.

"So I agreed to go. Do you know what that $1,000 contribution cost me?"

"Plenty?"

"How come?"

"I CONTRIBUTED $1,500 to Hattie Carnegie, $1,200 to Oleg Cassini, and $1,300 to Christian Dior, and that was only for the ball gowns."

"But surely it must have been worth it."

"When I arrived, I checked into my hotel room. It was the size of a small compact car. My wife said, 'After all you've done for the Democratic Party, this is how they repay you.'"

"There are ingrates in every possession," I said.

"On Monday evening we were invited to the gala at the Armory. I hired a car for $50 to get us there. It was 17 degrees above zero and we had to walk two blocks because of the traffic jam. The wind whipped through that $1,500 Hattie Carnegie dress like it was a Venetian blind."

"Your wife was mad?"

"HAVE YOU EVER tried to climb up to the third balcony of a national armory when both legs are frostbitten?"

He ordered another drink.

"The next day we went to the governors' reception. It was so crowded I thought I had lost my wife for the week. But no such luck. I found her stretched out on a couch in the lobby and she spotted me before I could sneak out the door. That night at the concert we were seated next to a Secret Serviceman."

"You mean near the president?"

"No, he was a Secret Serviceman assigned to see that nobody sneaked in from the roof."

"THE NEXT DAY we had seats for the inauguration about two miles south of the Washington - Baltimore Expressway. Fortunately, the guy next to us had a transistor and we heard the whole parade on radio."

"We had the only table set up next to the newsstand in the Statler-Hilton Hotel. By this time my wife and I weren't talking, so it didn't make any difference where we sat, anyway."

"She's upstairs packing. But I'll tell you the truth, I'm afraid to go home."

"Why?"

"BEFORE WE LEFT, my wife told everyone in town that on the basis of being personally invited to the inauguration I was probably going to be made the new ambassador to France."

Talk On Education

Dr. Wilson C. Riles, executive secretary of the State Department of Education's commission on equal opportunities in education, will speak on segregation in Marin County at 8 p.m. Feb. 3 at the First Missionary Baptist Church, Marin City.

Conservation Speaker Set

Mrs. Margaret Wentworth Owings, artist and State Park Commission member, will be principal speaker at the March 17 annual dinner meeting of the Marin Conservation League, according to chairman Mrs. Hall Kipp of Belvedere.

Para-Psychologist To Open Gate Theater

Goldin will demonstrate what he terms a potential source of power in the subconscious mind, the sixth sense, or extra-sensory perception. His show will run nightly, except Mondays for 14 weeks with curtain at 8 p.m.

Goldin, who was born in France but is now a citizen of Great Britain, uses no hypnotism.

Mrs. Desmond F. Mordant of Mill Valley, new theater owner, plans the Gate to be a cabaret theater. "I would like it to have an international flavor," he said.

PAUL GOLDIN
He has sixth sense

She said that the Gate was originally a variety theater before Abe Blumenfeld converted it into a movie house. For the past two years it was leased and operated by Jack Aranson of Mill Valley. Aranson had a repertory company and as actor-manager, produced many Shakespearean plays.

Another Chapter Written To Unusual Love Affair

Anthony, on a visit to the Azores, met a pretty girl. He brought her picture and much praise home with him to Marin. But after a time, his love for the girl appeared to wane.

Thirteen years ago Joseph Silveira went to the Azores and married Helena. She had to wait a year before she could come to Marin and rejoin her husband.

Joseph is a custodian in the San Anselmo School District. He and his wife have three daughters, Evonne M., Marie Louise and Josephine D. Silveira.

Mrs. Silveira was naturalized in San Francisco Superior Court with her husband looking on proudly. He is a native of Mill Valley, but he claims that his wife has studied English so well she can now read faster than he can.

Terra Linda Seniors Plan For June Dance

Terra Linda High School seniors are planning for the senior ball scheduled for June 12 at the Corinthian Yacht Club in Belvedere, according to Kathi Switzer, general chairman.

Seventy-six per cent of families now have two cars.

Negro History Will Be Topic Of Institute

Accent will be on the Negro and understanding Negro history and literature at a Sausalito School District Teachers Institute conducted Friday at Richardson Bay School.

Negro literature will be on display 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

"The intent is to get the knowledge that Negroes have played a part in American history before the public," said Supt. Marcus F. Davis. "Eventually, social studies will incorporate Negro history."

Speakers will be: Dr. Staten Webster, professor of education at University of California, on "Post-Civil War Negro History," 10:45 a.m.; Dr. Rudolph Lapp of San Mateo on "Pre-Civil War Negro History," 9:15 a.m.; Mrs. Aileen Hernandez, fair employment practices committee, San Francisco, on "Contemporary Negro History," 1:15 p.m., and Harold B. Brooks Jr. on "Negro Culture of Today," 2:45 p.m.

There will be a question and answer period after each talk.

Jobless Insurance Reports Are Due

Late returns may cost the employer penalties and interest on state tax and partial denial of tax credit offset against federal unemployment tax, according to Charles J. Brady, auditor for the State Department of Employment in San Rafael.

Parked Car Stripped

Alfred Brooks of 86 Mono Street, Fairfax, reported to Sausalito police at 7:15 p.m. Saturday that in the past two weeks, while his car was parked at 417 Turney Street, someone stripped it of manifold, carburetor, generator, spark plug wires and battery.

COLLECTOR'S DREAM— A freak nickel made of copper (left) is compared with an ordinary nickel by Bernhardt Kotike, Mankato, Minn., coin collector. The coin, sent by the U.S. Mint at Denver to a bank at St. Peter, Minn., has the same markings but it is stamped from a copper disc due minting error. Kotike, who paid $1 for it from a bank clerk, figures the rare coin might be worth $5,000 or more. (AP Wirephoto)

New Art Gallery Grand Opening Set

A new art gallery, the Showcase, will hold its grand opening from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera.

First exhibition for the new gallery will be recent paintings by Josiah Lancaster, former Bay Area artist, architect and educator who now lives in Paris. Gallery hours will be 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday; open until 9:30 p.m. Fridays.

Sailor Honored

Navy Seaman Apprentice Edward F. Columbia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Columbia of 24 Fullis Drive, San Rafael, has been awarded the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal while serving aboard the destroyer George K. MacKenzie, operating out of Yokosuka, Japan.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 27, the 27th day of 1965 with 338 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Mars. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

Austrian composer Wolfgang Mozart was born on this day in 1756.

On this day in history:

In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln issued general war order number one, instructing Northern Army and Navy forces to prepare for their first moves in the Civil War.

In 1943, the Eighth U.S. Air Force staged World War II's first all American air raid on Germany, bombing Wilhelmshaven in broad daylight.

Also in 1964, France recognized Red China.

A thought for the day—Abraham Lincoln said: "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Assure Your Game Contract By Testing Long Bridge Suit

A seven-point hand is so weak that you are almost tempted to drop partner at his first bid.

East dealer
Both sides vulnerable

All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ 2

South's jump to two notrump is merely invitational, but North should accept the invitation. South shows 19 or 20 points by opening with one of a suit and then jumping to two notrump.

NORTH ADDS

North adds his own seven points and sees that the partnership total is 26 or 27 points. Since 26 points is usually enough for game, North goes to three notrump.

When this hand was played in the 1964 Team Trials, all declarers reached game but three of the nine players went sour in the play of the cards.

LOW DIAMOND

The second diamond finesse lost, of course, and West led another heart. When the clubs failed to break, South had no way to get to dummy for a finesse through East's jack of clubs.

South was down one or two tricks, depending on how well he scrambled from this point on.

MAKE SURE

South should make sure of the contract by winning the first trick in his own hand with the king of hearts and leading out the ace and king of clubs. West shows out, and South abandons clubs in order to lead a low diamond.

West can take the king of diamonds or refuse the trick as he pleases. South can surely get to dummy with the ace of hearts to lead a club through East for a finesse.

Declarer thus makes sure of five clubs, two diamonds and two hearts.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened the bidding with one club, and partner raises to two clubs.

It is up to you again (the opponents are silent), holding:

♠ K 6
♡ K 9 8
♢ A 10 6
♣ A K Q 9 5

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three notrump.

You should have a reasonable play for game no matter what partner has for his raise. Don't be satisfied with an invitation when you can afford to bid game all by yourself.

PARISIAN DESIGNER Jacques Esterel presented this series of Mack Sennett bathing costumes for the 1965 spring and summer swimmers. Knee length and skin tight, they come in broad horizontal stripes. The designer said they were for wear over a bikini in places where brief bathing suits were considered scandalous.

FEATURED AT the spring-summer high fashion collections that opened in Paris Monday was the collection by Louis Feraud that often had a deceptively school girl air. This tendency sketch illustrates Feraud's graceful moving skirts with the hemline at about the middle of the knee. The soft flow of the fabrics characterized the designer's fondness for the gracefully moving fashion. (UPI Cable photos)

BALMAIN

Opulence In Tasteful Doses

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — As long as a man has money to spend, he will have no complaints about the spring collection Pierre Balmain introduced here today.

Pretty mannequins who smile, waistlines at waists, and hemlines at knees, youthfulness without silliness, softness without being langorous and wilted, chic, elegance, both vivid and delicate hues and opulence in tasteful doses — all the things men generally approve in fashion but the price tags — appeared in due course on the platform of the Balmain showroom.

The jewelry industry might have complaints. Daytime suits and dresses were so finely detailed with collars and bands of honeycomb and hemstitching that even a string of pearls would have detracted.

As for the party fare, Balmain added his own sparklers as jewel encrusted cuff bands and belts on sleek silk suits. Jewel embroidered overblouses with plenty of gold thread thrown in and some twinklers on the formal wear preclude getting the diamonds out of the safe.

But what husbands won't spend on jewelry, they'll put in furs, if Balmain has his way — even if this is a spring collection. The courturier's mannequins nuzzled in skinny white minks made of alternate bands of hairy and sheared pelts.

Many veterans of the fashion wars thought they recognized shades of Capt. Molyneux, the designer making a comeback Monday after a 15-year retirement. Nevertheless there was plenty of Balmain originality, circa 1965.

CHALLENGE TO WOMEN

'Time To Jettison Stereotypes Motherhood, Career Women'

Third is a series of articles based on the weekend symposium "The Challenge to Women: The Biologic Avalanche," presented by the University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco Medical Center.

By BARBARA HOSMER

"In the history of ideas nothing is sacred—not even motherhood. This is the contention of Dr. Ethel M. Albert of the University of California, speaking on what she termed the "unmothered" — or childless — woman.

Dr. Albert urged that current stereotyped ideas of motherhood and the childless woman be jettisoned as out of date and useless in any attempt to bring our runaway world under control.

"There is no very convincing correlation between femininity, sexiness, marriage and motherhood, not between singleness or childlessness and bitterness, man-hating, neurosis, or secret-drinking," she said.

"TO PREFER SOME other design for life to motherhood is not so astonishing. It may even appear rational if we consider it in the light of the great opportunities for choice open to most of us in the modern world," she said, pointing out that as women live longer and have their children at a younger age there are more years when they are unemployed mothers, or "de-mothered."

"The inappropriateness of the notion that all young women must marry and have children to be 'natural' and 'normal' is evidenced by data on actual life-patterns of women in our society. Married or unmarried, mothers or not mothers, a significant proportion of the feminine population spend a very considerable part of their time and energy on other matters than motherhood," Dr. Albert said, belying the current notion that "woman" is synonymous with "motherhood."

"NOT A FEW derive more satisfaction from their jobs or careers than from their families. A great many can enjoy their families as much as they do precisely because they are also engaged in other satisfying activities. Either most women, then aren't 'normal' or our notion of 'normal' needs to be more broadly and realistically defined," she said.

SHE CALLED for more reliable information to use as a guide.

"It is wrong to overdraw the joys of motherhood and the pains of childlessness. It is equally wrong to overdraw the joys of the career woman, with or without family, and the pains of maternity," Dr. Albert stated.

"Decision to devote one's life to a career should not be lightly made. Few human beings of either six have that intensity of devotion to a life-work that makes them self-sufficient or nearly so."

She pointed out that a combination of family and career is feasible for a woman only if she has a cooperative husband, a reasonably good income, physical strength, a strongly organized personality and "other characteristics none too generously granted to mere mortals."

She added that career women are not less a prey than men to the penalties of tension and overwork that make business and professional life "at the same time exciting but a very rough game."

DR. ALBERT STATED, "Once we dismiss a one-track notion of what is normal, we can see that the only thing that differentiates mothers from unmothered women (any women who are not currently engaged in rearing small children) is that the former do, whereas the latter do not have children." The stereotypes are simply incorrect and do not apply, she said.

"IT IS NOBODY'S task to debunk motherhood. It is everyone's task to be accurate and

Newly Completed Tennis Club Sets Season Events

A gala open house inauguration party on March 28 will be the first of a series of social activities to be held in the just-completed clubhouse of the Mill Valley Tennis Club.

Twenty members of the club's social committee attended a dinner meeting Friday night at the home of the social chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. James Rutledge, to outline plans for continuation of the club's traditional events and sketch new ideas for months ahead.

In early May the annual spring dinner dance will be presented. Family tennis and swim meets, followed by barbecue picnics, will be scheduled in July and August. During the same months, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Farber will be chairmen of the popular mixed doubles and Sunday night suppers, begun two years ago.

The traditional spaghetti dinner and song fest, which some adult members remember attending as youngsters, will be held in September. Parties for the high school group will be directed by Mr. and Mrs. George Wickham, while sub-teen activities are planned by Mr. and Mrs. William Everts Jr.

Undertaking other duties of the social committee will be Messrs. and Mesdames Melvin Klyce, Robert Matson, James Stephenson, Robert Rudebeck, Ralph Tierney and Paul Vogelheim.

A Sojourn In New Zealand For Mill Valley Student

By MOLLY MARIN

Laurie Pemberton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Pemberton of Mill Valley, sailed on the S. S. Arcadia on Friday and will arrive in Auckland, New Zealand, on Feb. 7. En route she will stop at Honolulu, where she will be met by Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Choys, family friends, and she will also stop at Fiji.

IN AUCKLAND she will be met by the Spencer Radfords, with whom she will live for the next year while she attends Victoria University with their daughter, Lindsay, who is the same age. They will then drive the 500 miles to the Radfords' home in Wellington. The Radfords have two other children, Michael and Virginia, who are about the same age as the Pembertons' two other children, Susan and Heather. Laurie will be in her second year at the university.

Woodwardia Elects New Club Officers

Mrs. Ray Duffy was elected president of the Thimble Club of Woodwardia Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft at a luncheon meeting in the home of Rhoda Kinz.

Other officers include Mesdames Pansy Bond, vice president; Annie Curry, secretary and treasurer and Jewel Wissum, Eudora Condoni, Alice Cavanugh, Kinz, board of finance and Helen Johnson, publicity.

New President Loves Travel

MRS. WILLIAM CARY

Her home, husband and children absorb practically all of the time and interest of Mrs. William Cary, new persident of the Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School.

A member three years, she previously served as membership chairman for the school which enrolls children from two years, nine months to kindergarten age.

"I just hope I can equal the good job our outgoing president Mrs. George MacKenzie has done," she said. "We have many ideas for the day activity program to start this spring, including field trips."

A native of San Francisco, Mary, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Young of Mill Valley, has lived most of her life in Mill Valley. She was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and attended the College of Marin before she married Bill, whom she met when she was a stewardess and he was a pilot for Pan American Airlines. He is now employed in landscape architect work in San Francisco.

They have three children: Bill, 6; Elizabeth, 5; and David, 1.

As a stewardess, Mary saw a good part of the world, and she and her husband made two trips to Europe, acquiring a taste for travel that they hope to indulge later. She is a member of World Wings, which is composed of former airline stewardesses.

Mary loves music and is presently studying the guitar. She sang with a chorus when the Carys lived in Redding, Conn., and also with the College of Marin Community Chorus.

She designs and makes all of her clothes and spends a great deal of her time making plans for the remodeling of their home.

"Some day I hope to complete college and get a teaching credential," she says.

Other officers elected to serve with the new president are Mesdams MacKenzie, vice president; Robert Shaffer, secretary; Alex Laskoff, treasurer; and John Eagleton, membership chairman. Mrs. Elizabeth Whitney is the director of the school.

Kathleen Brewen To Marry Michael J. King In August

The engagement of Kathleen Marie Brewen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Henry Brewen of Compton, to Michael James King of San Francisco has been announced by her parents.

Kathleen, the granddaughter of E. F. Groves of Lynwood, was graduated from University of California in Los Angeles with a bachelor of arts degree in elementary education. She is a sixth grade teacher at Reed School.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alice Fealy King and M. J. King, both of San Francisco. His sisters are Antoinette Marie King of San Francisco and Mrs. R. Donald McNeil of San Jose. He was graduated from Bellarmine Preparatory School and Stanford University.

Michael is a lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Reserve and is a member of Olympic Club and the Bachelors. He is an estimator-contractor.

KATHLEEN BREWEN

realistic about it. It is nobody's task to prove that the unmarried, unmothered state is so far superior to that of the married mother that women should forthwith abandon having husbands or babies," Dr. Albert emphasized.

The surrender of "our comfortable misconceptions," she suggested, offers a start toward improving understanding of human-kind, allowing individual development and a fighting chance to come to terms with the biologic avalanche.

TOMORROW: "Profiles of the Vanishing Father."

Jeanne Davis Weds Richard B. Paterson

The Rev. Paul Bucholtz officiated at the wedding of Jeanne Lucille Davis of San Anselmo and Richard Bousfield Paterson of San Rafael at 8 p.m. Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carlton Davis of San Anselmo, was given in marriage by her father in the double ring ceremony. She wore a full length gown of off-white satin with Alencon lace trim and wateau train.

Merrily Davis of San Francisco was her sister's maid of honor wearing a full length Ming blue velveteen dress. Faith Merian of San Anselmo, Kathleen Stewart of Petaluma, cousin of the bride, and Leslie Paterson of San Rafael, sister of the bridegroom, were similarly dressed as bridesmaids.

Norman J. Paterson Jr. of San Rafael served as his brother's best man and John Paterson of San Rafael, brother of the bridegroom, Edwin N. Benson of Greenbrae and John Swart and Phillip Beyman, both of San Rafael, ushered.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keiser of Glen Ellen.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Paterson of San Rafael and the brother of Leslie Paterson, also of San Rafael. He was graduated from San Rafael Military Academy and College of Marin and is attending San Francisco State College.

TEEN-AGE DRINKING

Parents Setting Poor Example

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of five dispatches on teen-age drinking.)

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Contemporary teen-agers were post-war babies, born as a result of happy reunions and a great desire to have children.

There was a primary emphasis on permissiveness, based on the theory that if you give endlessly to a child, he will blossom to the utmost.

They were burped by the rules in child-raising books, given vitamins and shots pediatricians recommended, and otherwise, all along the way, were exposed to the "good life."

So guess who gets blamed for millions of them drinking beer and whisky today? Their parents.

By poor example and lack of discipline, the parents have just the teen-agers they deserve, in the opinion of educaors, social workers, police officials and clergymen polled by United Press International.

Sharing the blame with parents are such things as the bomb — "tomorrow we die"; social pressures to grow up fast — beginner bras for 11 year olds; teen-age rebellion—an age-old thing; teen-age desires to do what the crowd does; television, movies and advertisements which make drinking glamorous.

Citing negative parental influences as a major cause of teen-age drinking, Rev. John F. Norman, of Lincoln, Neb., said:

"The home is the weakest point in America today. There is more drinking in the home than in the tavern. Parents must have a spiritual and moral awakening."

Police Chief James Hicks, of Sacramento, Calif., also says the problem is a matter of parental delinquency.

In Atlanta, Ga., an official of the state Department of Education says there is ample evidence that excessive drinking among parents affects lives of many children.

FOLLOWS PARENTS

Municipal Judge Emmet Daly of San Francisco, said the child of alcoholic parents takes to the bottle as soon as he can.

"Kissing mama goodnight is a thing of the past," said Sgt. Warren Cane, a San Francisco policeman. "Nobody smells the teen's breath when he comes in at late hours anymore. So many parents don't know their children drink until they are arrested. Parents put too much trust in their children without enough vigilance to go with it."

Dr. Edward Carpenter and associates at the Family Service agency of San Francisco answered questions about "blame" this way:

ABSOLUTE AGE

"We are living in an absolute age. Everyone realizes the result of an all-out war would be complete annihilation. With this, there is a trend away from idealism to immediate gratification of desires.

"Parents drink, thinking it helps solve their problems. The teen-agers tend to think that they have some kind of sanction to adopt their parents way of handling problems, and therefore, may tend to drink."

Teen-age problems create tremendous tensions. The youngsters are under pressure to succeed in high school, to decide their life occupations, to get into college. They are expected much of the time to decide in an adult way and act in an adult manner. Yet the law says they are children and cannot drink.

BLAMES FRUSTRATION

Dr. Robert Pierce, pastor of Chicago Temple (Methodist), blames frustration, saying:

"Without being aware of it, perhaps the youngsters are frustrated because tomorrow they're going to be drafted or the bomb will be dropped. Without question, rebellion is involved, too—rebellion against a lot of moral cliches they can see no meaning or purpose in."

Konrad Reisner, executive director of the Family Service of Dayton, Ohio, blames the general upheaval in society, due in a large measure to rapid changes saying:

"Parents struggle to adjust to these changes, to decide whether they should or should not conform to rapidly changing standards. In the process, young people often are left to handle their own impulses without adequate guidance.

ALL TO BLAME

Ken Chamberlain, chief of police in Skokie, Ill., maintains all of the agencies — police, churches, homes—are to blame to a certain degree.

"Only by all of these agencies recognizing this will a dent ever be made in the problem," he said.

The Rev. James Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, sees a shift from parents to peer groups as setters of values for juveniles.

"Homelife is so loosely hung that teens conform to the mores of their peers rather than their parents," he said. "'I don't care' is often the mood of the teen peer groups. In this prosperous age, one doesn't have to make something of oneself to eat. . .so the prevailing attitude is 'why bother'."

They drink to be a member of the "in" group, according to Franklin Parks, executive director of the Family Service Society of New Orleans.

ADULTS RESPONSIBLE

At a recent symposium on teen-age drinking, the Rev. William H. Genne, executive director of the Department of Family Life, the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., told his audience of teen-agers:

"I don't know why they're picking on you. It seems to me that this whole problem is a social one and that adults are more responsible than teen-agers.

"They make the stuff. They advertise it. They manipulate you. They exploit you. I think in a very real sense you are being victimized by the adult generation."

Newlyweds To Reside In London

Living and working in London, England, are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wesley Hildreth, who were married there on New Year's Eve.

The bride is the former Nancy Carol Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams of Mill Valley, and Edward, who is better known as "Wes", is the son of Mrs. Marion Frederica Hildreth of Mill Valley and George Hildreth of Inglewood.

The ceremony took place at 4 p.m. in the Church of St. John's at Hampstead with the bride given in marriage by Michael Isador, a noted concert pianist and friend of the bridegroom's family.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was held at an English inn in Hampstead, and the young couple spent a week's honeymoon in Cornwall.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Nancy studied art at San Francisco State College. She is now working as a secretary with the Royal Institute of British Architects in London.

She is the sister of Lauren M. Williams of Mill Valley and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Williams of Alamo and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Marcy of Mesa, Ariz.

Edward was graduated from Tamalpais High School and Harvard University where he was elected in his junior year to Phi Beta Kappa. Since completing a world study trip in international politics under a Sheldon Traveling Fellowship he has been teaching history and related subjects in a secondary school in London.

He is the brother of Deborah and Bruce Hildreth of Mill Valley and the grandson of Mrs. Guy Mac Vicar of Belvedere and Mrs. E. W. Hildreth of Boston, Mass.

The young people will remain in Europe until next fall when they will return to visit their families and friends before going to Cambridge, Mass., where Edward will resume his studies at Harvard toward a Ph.D. degree.

FOLLOWING A JAN. 9 wedding at St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur, Mr. and Mrs. Peter E. Dardis are residing in San Anselmo. The bride is the former Judi Rourke of Mill Valley.

Marin Adopts Statewide Bail Schedule

A uniform bail schedule for traffic offenses, recomended by the Judicial Council of California, has been adopted for Marin County and became effective Jan. 1.

Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of municipal courts, said the recommended schedule was approved in its entirety by all three Marin County municipal judges last December. There was no public announcement at the time.

In general, the schedule is a hike in traffic fines for Marin County residents, but there also are several offenses for which bail is lessened. Bail for making an illegal left turn, for example, is now $15, plus the regular $2 penalty assessment, making a total $17.

On the other hand, bail for failure to have proper registration is now $10, plus the penalty assessment, compared to a $25 previous charge.

Failure to give proper notice of change of address, too, is subject to $5 fine, rather than the previous $10.

The bail recommendations are for first offenses, and the schedule recommends that if the defendant has a prior conviction other than parking, within a 12-month period, the bail should be increased 50 per cent.

More leeway also is given motorists cited for speeding. Only those charged with speeding 26 miles an hour or more over the speed limit now must appear personally in court. Formerly, any alleged violator speeding 20 miles or more over the existing speed limit had to appear.

Redwood High Senior Ball Site, Time Set

Redwood High School's senior ball will be held from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. May 28 at Peacock Gap, Country Club, according to Bob Green, chairman of the student committee planning the event.

Other members of the committee are Pam Field, Dianne Tomlinson, Sally Schullerts and Badaracco.

Jingo was a legendary empress of Japan who, on the death of her husband in the first century, recruited an army and led it on a completely successful three-year conquest of Korea.

home BUYERS in Southern Marin are ALREADY living in Marin County by a ratio of more than 2 to 1

(than from San Francisco)

Latest Research* shows that 65.9% of home buyers in Southern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	65.9
San Francisco	31.9

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, covering 2 out of every 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

ORDINANCE NO 5

AN ORDINANCE OF THE STRAWBERRY RECREATION DISTRICT, A PARK AND RECREATION DISTRICT, REGULATING GARBAGE, RUBBISH, WASTE MATTER AND REFUSE AND THE COLLECTION, REMOVAL AND DISPOSAL SERVICE THEREOF

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District, a Park and Recreation District, Marin County, State of California, finds and determines that no other public agency is providing garbage collection and disposal services within the boundaries of the Strawberry Recreation District; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District, a Park and Recreation District, Marin County, State of California, finds and determines that it is in the best interest of the public health, safety and welfare of the residents of said District and that it is necessary for the protection of public health, safety and welfare, and property within said District that garbage collection and disposal services be rendered subject to proper and adequate control and regulation by said District;

NOW, THEREFORE, THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE STRAWBERRY RECREATION DISTRICT OF MARIN COUNTY, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. DEFINITIONS. The terms defined in this Section have the meanings set forth unless the content of this Ordinance requires a different meaning.

Sec. 1-1 "District" means Strawberry Recreation District, Marin County, California.

Sec. 1-2 "Board" means Board of Directors of Strawberry Recreation District.

Sec. 1-3 "County" means the County of Marin.

Sec. 1-4 "Person" means any human being, individual, firm, company, partnership, association, joint venture, and private, public and municipal corporations, the United States of America, the State of California, Districts and all political subdivisions, Governmental Agencies, commissions and mandatories thereof.

Sec. 1-5 "Collector" means any person to whom a contract shall have been let by District to collect, transport, remove or dispose refuse through the streets, alleys, walkways and public ways of District.

Sec. 1-6 "Garbage" means any animal, fruit and vegetable refuse; any offal, any leaves and cuttings, trimmings from trees, shrubs and grass; any inorganic refuse and rubbish; anything thrown away as worthless; any kitchen, table, fountain, or refuse or other matter that attends the preparation, consumption, decay, dealing in or storing of any kind of matter for human food consumption.

Sec. 1-7 "Rubbish" means and includes cardboard and pasteboard, rags, papers, straw, sawdust, packing materials, shavings, boxes and similar combustible materials.

Sec. 1-8 "Waste Matter" shall mean and include crockery, bottles, tin cans, metals of all kinds, metal vessels, ashes, shells, plaster, bricks, concrete, plastics, and any and all other similar non-combustible materials.

Sec. 1-9 "Refuse" means and includes all types of waste materials as defined under the headings of "Garbage", "Rubbish", and "Waste Matter".

SECTION 2. DUMPING OR BURYING. No person shall dump, place or bury in any lot, parcel, area, land, street, alley, walkway, water area or tide lands within the District, any garbage or rubbish or any other deleterious or offensive substance under any circumstances whatsoever nor shall any person dump, place or bury within the District any waste matter without first having obtained a permit in writing from the District so to do.

SECTION 3. ACCUMULATIONS. No person owning or occupying any building, lot, parcel, area or premises within the District shall allow any refuse as herein defined, or any other deleterious, offensive or noxious substance to accumulate or remain in or about said building, lot, parcel, area or premises.

SECTION 4. CONTRACTS. District is hereby authorized and empowered, through its Board of Directors, to enter into any contract with any person for the right and privilege of collecting refuse within the District, upon such terms and conditions, consistent with this ordinance, as the Board of Directors may deem for the best interests of the District, public health, safety and welfare of the residents thereof and the property therein, for a period of from one to ten years at rates to be hereinafter determined, which said contract shall incorporate this ordinance and make it a part of such contract. Any such contract may contain an option for its renewal by collector.

SECTION 5. PERIODIC SERVICE. The collector shall provide not less than weekly service to each owner, resident, tenant or occupant within the District and shall collect all refuse as often as may be required.

SECTION 6. REGULATIONS. It shall be unlawful for any person to collect and carry refuse through the streets of the District without first having entered into a contract or obtained a permit from the District so to do. The collector shall not permit any refuse to fall or remain on any public street or private premises in the District; he shall close all gates used by him in collection service; he shall operate with a minimum of noise and shall not damage the container of any person, and shall place it in the position where found after emptying it. He shall also abide by any and all laws of the State of California, ordinances of the County, regulations and orders of the County Health Department or officer, and ordinances and general regulations of the District now or hereafter adopted.

SECTION 7. RATES. Charges for the collection, removal, transportation and disposal of refuse from buildings, lots, areas and premises within the District shall be determined by agreement between collector and the person for whom such service is performed; provided, however, that District may establish a schedule of maximum rates and minimum services as part of any contract entered into by and between District and Collector pursuant to this ordinance; provided, further, that any person within the District shall have the right to request the Board to make a determination of charges to be made by the collector for any such service in the event that no maximum schedule of rates and minimum service is included in any contract entered into between District and collector.

SECTION 8. CONSTITUTIONALITY. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phase of this ordinance be for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrase be declared to be unconstitutional.

SECTION 9. EFFECTIVE DATE. This ordinance shall take effect and be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after the date of passage and approval and shall be published at least once in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper published in the County of Marin, and having the largest circulation within the boundaries of the District; said publication to be made before the expiration of fifteen (15) days after its passage with the names of the members of the Board voting for and against the same. Further, upon adoption of this ordinance it shall be entered in full in the minutes of the Board and shall be posted in three (3) public places within the District for a period of two (2) weeks following the enactment thereof.

Passed and adopted by the Board of Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District, a Park and Recreation District, County of Marin, State of California, on the 20th day of January, 1965 by the following vote, to-wit:

AYES: C. G. Bush, P. M. Gowen, G. C. Lopes, A. R. Senter

INTERNATIONAL CRISIS

U.S., British Boys Wrangle On Fad

By FRANK FARRARA

It's the Terra Linda Trojans versus Great Britain's "Mods and Rockers," at least on paper.

A running battle of words started last month when Rich Nolan, editorial writer for Terra Linda High School's newspaper, Voice of Troy, scorned the long-haired English teen-age boys.

"England has now fallen to waves of powdered, lipsticked young men . . . this shows what happens when a mighty empire has been lowered to a third-rate power," Nolan wrote.

Kay evidently bristled when he read Nolan's words that England has on one hand "scruffy motorcycle boys," the Rockers, and on the other hand "a federation of painted pansies," the Mods.

"We have always heard of the conservative and refined English young people and we have always been criticized for our teen-agers but at least we can say that here one can tell the difference between the sexes," Nolan said.

Kay and three friends shot back a reply to Nolan's editorial "to straighten out any misconceptions held by Americans of British youth."

The English lads said that "to imply that over half the male population of Great Britain is effeminate is rather an unintelligent statement."

They challenged Nolan to present his views on the latest export from the United States to the United Kingdom, P. J. Proby.

"The writer would like to take this opportunity to point out that, although the newspaper phrase 'Mods and Rockers' is often used both at home and abroad, its meaning is somewhat vague."

Kay and friends said that the contents of Nolan's editorial "if studied, represent either a joke in very bad taste, or a substandard level of intelligence."

RICH NOLAN
Got angry protest

The story of Nolan's editorial and Kay's reply ran in a Manchester newspaper along with the following definitions:

Individualists — The majority group. They do not wish to conform with either of the two other groups.

Hearing On Recreation Is Slated

The hearing is the first item on the agenda of the commission's 9 a.m. meeting. Its author, planner Walter Horchler, said that despite state and federal parks in the county, Marin has insufficient recreation facilities in upland areas.

Horchler proposed four regional parks be developed inland, and a reservoir and recreation area be built at Chileno Creek on the Marin-Sonoma County line. Development of Stafford Lake at Novato has the most immediate potential, Horchler told the planning commission.

The planner also said marinas should be constructed at Corte Madera, Gallinas Creek and Black Point.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctor Reports Rare Case Of Gallstone Appendicitis

Gallstone induced appendicitis is so rare, Dr. F. A. Vicari of Chicago decided to report a case in the American Journal of Gastroenterology. He was consulted by a 14-year-old boy who had been suffering from an obvious gall bladder colic for five days. Pain on the right side had shifted from the upper to the lower abdomen. A diagnosis of acute appendicitis was made, even though there were many gallstone shadows on an X-ray film.

VAN DELLEN

Surgery yielded a gangreous appendix. It was removed and a gallstone was noted at the base of the organ. The stone must have passed into the intestine during the attack of colic and found its way into the appendix.

AN ATLANTA, GA. firm makes a telephone dial plate with enlarged numbers to aid persons who find it difficult to dial without reading glasses. This should be good news for many of us with poor near vision. It is a nuisance to put on specs or use a magnifying lens every time a phone call is made. The plates should be installed by a telephone company representative.

Five years ago, when the stiletto heel was popular, we wrote about the damage done when a woman wearing this type of shoe steps on someone's instep. The spike heel also makes a lethal weapon when the wearer decides to use it—well, let's say, in self-defense.

A LIVERPOOL BRAIN surgeon recently reported two cases of skull fracture resulting from such blows. The first victim was a 31-year-old man who was hit on the head by a woman during a "fracas in a public house." His skull was fractured, even though there was only a trivial laceration on the scalp. Operation was needed to correct the head defect.

The second was a 36-year-old woman involved in a street fight with another woman who hit her on the head with a stiletto heel. The small scalp wound was sutured but, on the way home, the victim began to drag her right leg. She became confused and lost the ability to speak. The leg became paralyzed. Surgery was needed to remove pieces of bone and hair from the brain. The first signs of improvement took place 10 days later but she remained in the hospital six weeks.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

WATER IN EAR CANALS

Mrs. F. H. writes: I am hard of hearing. Recently water got in my ears and now I hear a constant sizzling and my hearing is worse. Please advise.

REPLY

Looking into the ear canal is an easy procedure. Consult your physician. Many of the hard of hearing also have head noises as a part of their condition.

READING IN BED

A. S. writes: Does reading in bed strain the eyes?

REPLY

A temporary strain may take place if the light is poor. Reading in bed is no different from reading at a desk or in a chair.

REACTIONS TO MENOPAUSE

Mrs. O. writes: Do widows and spinsters have more trouble than married women during the change?

REPLY

Women with emotional disorders may have trouble along this line, regardless of their marital status.

MEAT AND BLOOD

REPLY

Not visible blood, but meat may be responsible for a positive chemical or laboratory test for blood in the stools.

CALORIES IN FOOD

I.V.S. writes: Are there any noncaloric foods a diabetic could fill up on?

REPLY

No. But check your market for the list of low calorie foods. Many of these products can be incorporated into the calculated diabetic diet.

HORMONE AND CANCER

REPLY

This question cannot be answered. Hormones per se do not cause cancer but aggragate the disease after it develops.

VITAMIN FOR APPETITE

E. C. writes: What vitamin would improve a jaded appetite?

REPLY

CAN'T SEE AT NIGHT

REPLY

County Approves Improved Fencing At Its Heliport

Marin County Supervisors approved fencing at the county heliport on Richardson Bay yesterday because larger, windier helicopters are slated to use the facility.

San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines Inc. requested modifications at the site so it can initiate service with larger helicopters. Its present helicopters carry 10 passengers. The new ones will carry 26.

The board approved fir and redwood fencing, estimated to cost $600.

Waterfront Zone To Be Discussed

Sausalito planning commissioners will hold a workshop session tomorrow at 8 p.m. in city hall to discuss rezoning the waterfront to a lesser zoning and a use more oriented to the water.

The waterfront, said commissioner Roy Starbird, is now zoned in various areas, residential waterfront, waterfront to include commercial, hotel and marine uses, and open area.

TV REVIEW

Revolution Delivery Was Dull

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — In case you have been wondering lately about the French Revolution, NBC-TV presented a one-hour special about that very subject last night.

This remarkably considerate public service may have taken you unawares — perhaps you have been one of the few who have not been wondering lately about the French Revolution. Tishtosh. You miss the point. There is warming safety for a network in a topic such as 18th century history.

One can stir up the animals if one should examine a topic such as, say, the teetering status of the United Nations. But the French Revolution? Ah, those were the days. There is safety in numbness.

The script was not only wholly obvious and lacking in originality, but contained little more than grade school information and, worst of all, was, in tone and delivery, utterly cold, distant, detached and plodding. Only brief, and very general, remarks at the end tried for some relevance, lamely.

The Channel Swim: Indonesian President Sukarno, whose country has withdrawn from the United Nations, is scheduled to be interviewed in Jakarta on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation" Sunday . . . Tonight's "ABC Scope" plans to present special coverage of Sir Winston Churchill's lying-in-state, pre-empting a broadcast debate about America's future course in South Viet Nam.

Tam Teachers Singers, Too

Five coaches, three other teachers and the principal at Tamalpais High School often sing after school "just for the fun of it."

The "Nine-Tet" sings for school rallies, the musirama and once sang for a mother's tea. Some members are also members of the Marin Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.
